House OKs 4.6 Billion Foreign Aid

Allows President To Aid Red Nations, But Ties 'If' To It

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has voted to allow President Kennedy to aid Communist countries if he sees a chance to pry them from Kremlin domination.

After giving the President this major victory Thursday, the House went on to pass a bill authorizing him to spend $4,668,500,000 for military aid and economic assistance this year. The roll call vote was 250 to 164.

Kennedy did not get everything he wanted from the House and got, in fact, some things he'd rather not have.

The authorization is $210 million below his original request and it carries two amendments he considers noxious: A ban on loans or grants to the United Nations until other members pay their back assessments; a requirement that he stop aid to nations that seize American property unless appropriate steps are taken within six months to make fair payment.

The shape the foreign aid measure finally will take depends on how a Senate-House conference committee resolves the House version and one passed earlier by the Senate.

And the tough fight on money will come later in the session when appropriations bills actually to provide foreign aid money are debated and voted on by both chambers.

In its bill the Senate voted to authorize foreign aid spending of $4,662,000,000 — $6.5 million less than the House. The Senate also acted contrary to Kennedy's wishes by barring all assistance to Communist countries with the exception of surplus food.

Since then the administration has fought to have these handcuffs unlocked by the House. The bipartisan effort to give the President a freer hand was by a standing vote of 277 to 4.

Out-Of-World Rivalry With France

British Jump Gun In First Telephone Call By Telstar

NEW YORK (AP)—The British jumped the gun and put through the first trans-Atlantic telephone call via Telstar Thursday night. The space communications satellite thus generated an out-of-this-world rivalry between the English and the French.

France made an unscheduled start on transatlantic telecasting Wednesday night. The British called it a "clear breach of faith" and, in apparent retaliation, beat the French to the draw on international phone calls via space.

The call between scientists in Britain and the United States lasted about 10 minutes and concerned mainly technical matters.

A spokesman for the British Post Office, which controls broadcasting in England much as the Federal Communications Commission does here, termed the experiment a success.

The French denied they broke an agreement which called for the first European television program to be received in the U.S. July 23. Citing a technicality, the French said the agreement provided that the joint European telecast would be "live," while theirs was prerecorded.

The French program included songs by actor Yves Montand and other entertainers. It was seen in American homes, as was a "live" British telecast bounced off the satellite a few hours later.

The European Broadcasting Union, in a communique issued in Geneva, said the French telecast violated the international agreement "that no TV material of entertainment or informative character be transmitted in advance of the joint Eurovision project."

The first formal transatlantic telephone call via Telstar had been scheduled for tonight between the United States and France.

Instead, the British completed the first such call Thursday night. It was placed by scientists at the Goonhilly Downs tracking station in Cornwall to fellow engineers at American Telephone & Telegraph Co.'s ground station at Andover, Maine.

AT&T designed and built the 170-pound Telstar at a cost of $50 million, and paid the government nearly $4 million to launch it from Cape Canaveral Tuesday morning. It was the first privately financed space venture.

The switchboard in outer space is whirling about the globe at an altitude of 600 to 3,500 miles.

Law Omits Clause For Reciprocity

Ordinance Passes At Single Session; Rules Suspended

Midland Borough Council Thursday night enacted a new income tax of one per cent, affecting both residents and non-residents employed there, and timed it to be effective from Aug. 12 through Dec. 31.

Approved under suspension of rules, the tax will produce about $120,000 to offset a revenue loss of $70,000 expected when the borough is required to refund money collected in occupation taxes in 1961, along with the receipts which had been expected this year from the outlawed tax.

The tax amounts to $1 on each $100 of earnings or other income, compared to a levy of 80 cents per $100 collected in East Liverpool.

No Reciprocity

But there is no provision for a reciprocal agreement that would allow Ohio or West Virginia residents to claim credit for income taxes they pay in their own communities.

At the end of the year, the ordinance provides there will be a "settle off period" in which taxes will be returned to other Pennsylvania communities where persons employed in Midland reside and also pay a tax.

The tax will affect about 3,000 persons who are employed in Midland but live outside the community. The tax will be withheld by employers.

The ordinance provides the tax will be collected "on salaries, wages, commissions and other compensation of resident and nonresident employes and on net profits earned by businesses, professions or other activities conducted by residents on non-residents."

Enabling Act Cited

It was passed under an enabling act of the Pennsylvania Legislature approved in June 1947.

Council also selected Rudolph Presutti, tax collector, as the chief clerk of the Midland Income Tax Bureau. On a motion by Councilman William Shovlin,

Ribicoff Quits Cabinet Post; Eyes Senate

Democrat Expected To Be Nominated In Connecticut

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Abraham A. Ribicoff, the first member of President Kennedy's Cabinet to resign, headed for the Connecticut Democratic state convention tonight to fight for the nomination for U.S. Senator.

With the backing of Democratic National Chairman John Bailey and other party leaders, Ribicoff is expected to get the nomination without trouble.

"I like the challenge of elective office," Ribicoff said Thursday night in a television speech announcing his resignation as secretary of health, education and welfare.

Challenge is what he promptly got from his opponent for the nomination, Congressman-at-large Frank Kowalski.

Kowalski issued a statement claiming he had been offered U.S. Sen. Thomas Dodd's job if he would consent to run again for Congress this year and leave the field clear for Ribicoff.

Dodd's current term ends in 1964.

Ribicoff and Bailey, both targets of Kowalski's frequent charges of bossism, pooh-poohed his accusation.

The convention opens tonight with Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., Senate majority leader, scheduled to deliver the keynote address. The business of choosing candidates will begin Saturday.

Ribicoff said one of his principal motives in seeking a seat in the Senate was to be able to vote in support of the programs he championed while a Cabinet member.

President Kennedy was expected today to release Ribicoff's letter of resignation and his own reply.

The choice of a successor may be announced today, too. Kennedy has known for months Ribicoff planned to run for the Senate and may have made his choice some time ago.

Dreamy-Eyed Hawaiian Is Miss U.S.A.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A dreamy-eyed Hawaiian beauty on her first visit to the mainland reigns today as Miss U.S.A.

Macel Leilani Wilson of Honolulu, chosen the fairest in the land Thursday night from among the queens of 40 states, competes tonight and Saturday for the Miss Universe title. Also seeking the honor are delegates from 50 nations.

"I needed the money to go to school," said sweet Leilani. She plans to attend San Francisco City College.

But school may have to wait until she completes a $5,000 contract she will receive for public appearances. Her crown also entitles her to $1,000 cash.

"My father told me not to settle for anything but first place," said the 19-year-old girl who earns $250 a month as a receptionist.

Her father, Harry Wilson Jr., is a plumber. He and Mrs. Wilson recently moved from Honolulu to San Francisco. He is Hawaiian, Chinese and English; Mrs. Wilson is Portuguese.

Macel has dark brown hair and eyes, is 5 feet, 6½ inches tall and weighs 120. She said she measured 35-24-35 when she left home, but now is 36-23½-35½.

She attributes the change to a five-day stay in Hollywood, Calif., en route to Miami Beach.

"They fed us well," she reported. "My inches increased."

Heat Wave In Sicily

ROME (AP)—A Sahara heat wave flowing across the Mediterranean sent temperatures soaring to 114 degrees (Fahrenheit) in western Sicily Thursday.

No Progress Reported On Berlin Talks

Nearing Standstill; Arms Negotiations Also Nearly Stalled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Berlin settlement talks between the United States and Russia seem to be grinding to a standstill. East-West negotiations on disarmament similarly appear on the verge of stalemate.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk discussed both issues Thursday with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin. The hour and 45-minute talk failed to yield any progress on either problem.

Just before the meeting Rusk said that if the Soviet government continues to insist on discussing only the problem of how to reduce or to eliminate western positions in Berlin "then there is no basis for serious negotiations in that direction."

On disarmament he is reported to have asked the Soviet government through Dobrynin that it review its opposition to international inspection as a means of safeguarding an arms cut agreement and thus try to find "some way to take some steps to get on with disarmament."

Earlier this week Soviet Premier Khrushchev insisted in a speech in Moscow that U.S., British and French troops must be removed from West Berlin. The real reason the Western powers want international inspection is to obtain espionage information in the Soviet Union, he said.

Flames Raze Trailer Home

$5,000 Loss Seen In Millport Blaze

SUMMITVILLE — Loss has been set at $5,000 in a fire which swept a 45-foot trailer home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dowling Thursday night about 6 while the family was away from the trailer, located two miles west of Millport.

Only two picture albums were salvaged from the charred wreckage, according to firemen, who said the blaze was out of control by the time they arrived.

The family had finished supper and Dowling had returned to a wheat field to assist his father, Paul Dowling, in grain combine operations. Mrs. Dowling and the young son and daughter had gone to the rear of the nearby home of the Older Dowlings to take clothes from a line.

The younger Dowlings reside on the farm home of his father.

Franklin Township Fire Chief Paul Crawford said cause of the fire is not determined, but it apparently began in the living room area near a television set.

The fire first was discovered by a neighbor, who sped to the trailer thinking the two children were inside. He said when he opened the door, the flames shot out and he could not enter.

Part of the loss is covered by insurance, the family said.

The Dowling farm is located along the old Millport - Kensington Rd., about a quarter of a mile inside Carroll County.

Fired County Workers Sue For Salaries

$11,729 Requested In Civil Actions Of Women Democrats

LISBON — Four women who claim "wrongful dismissal" from Courthouse jobs sued the county commissioners Thursday for salaries for the months they were off the jobs.

Plaintiffs in the individual actions totaling $11,729.88, with jobs held and amounts asked:

Mrs. Jane Case, Columbiana, switchboard operator, $3,952.50; Mrs. Ruth Wining, Columbiana, dog license department clerk, $3,040.25; Miss Patricia A. Barborak, West Point, photostat operator, $2,587.13, and Mrs. Camilla Smith, 937 Main St., Wellsville, microfilm operator, $2,250.

All were Democratic appointees replaced by Republicans Feb. 1, 1961, after the Board of Commissioners returned to GOP control. The discharged employes appealed on grounds they had Civil Service protection and won their case in the Seventh District Court of Appeals and in the Ohio Supreme Court.

County commissioners reinstated Mrs. Case, Mrs. Wining and Miss Barborak last May 16, but fired them within a day or two for alleged political activity in violation of Civil Service laws. The microfilm operator position was abolished last November.

Mrs. Case's appeal to the State Department of Personnel Board of Review will be heard this month in Courtroom 2. Originally scheduled for July 24, it has been postponed until Thursday, July 26. Mrs. Wining and Miss Barborak chose not to contest the recent firing and found other work.

In actions filed yesterday, Mrs. Wining and Miss Barborak listed earnings in outside jobs during the 15½-month layoff and deducted those earnings from their claims. Mrs. Case and Mrs. Smith said they were unable to find other work.

Since Republican appointees received no pay during the 15½ months, they may have to take similar action for reimbursement.

West Ban-Bomb Flags Seized In Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—Russian security men seized ban-the-bomb banners today when two-dozen young Westerners unfurled them in Red Square.

The demonstrators, mostly British but with a sprinkling of Americans and Scandinavians, had been warned earlier they would be deported if they went through with their plans to denounce nuclear testing just beneath the Kremlin walls.

Two Killed, 41 Injured In Bus Accident

BELLEVILLE, Ind. (AP) — A Greyhound Scenicruiser snagged the corner of a truck loaded with lead on U.S. 40 west of Belleville early today, and two passengers were killed and 41 injured.

Dead are William David Neville, about 67, Edinburg, Ind., and a woman identified tentatively as Mrs. Rada Szkiewicz of Philadelphia, Pa.

Injured critically were Mrs. Jennie Markieivic of Philadelphia, sister of Mrs. Szkiewicz; her son, John Markieivic of Philadelphia, and Charles Jones, 42, Arlington, Tex.

The bus driver, Robert L. Schlagenhauf, 51, Indianapolis, and the truck driver, Joseph M. McCorkhill, 49, Anderson, Ind., were not injured.

State police said Schlagenhauf told them he pulled out to pass the truck on the dual lane highway and the bus struck the left rear corner of the truck trailer. The right side of the bus was ripped open, and the two vehicles careened 500 feet along the highway.

Twenty-one of the injured were taken to Methodist Hospital in Indianapolis, 20 miles east of Belleville, and 20 of the less seriously hurt were taken to Marion County General Hospital in Indianapolis.

The passengers who were killed or seriously injured were all riding on the lower level of the two-level bus, which was traveling from California to New York.

Brazil Trip Is Postponed By Kennedy

Official Reasons Cited As Congress Windup, Elections

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has postponed until mid-November his planned visit to Brazil.

The official reasons: The approaching windup of the congressional session, plus the fact that election campaigns are coming up in both the United States and Brazil.

But experts on Latin America read into Thursday's announcement concern that a presidential visit during the current Brazilian political crisis could be labeled Yankee intervention.

The White House announcement did not mention Brazil's internal troubles. President Joao Goulart, who recently visited the United States, has been disputing with conservative factions over the type of administration Brazil should have.

Two prime ministers have resigned during the past two weeks, Brazil's congress has rejected a third, and Goulart's latest choice for the post has not been able to form a cabinet.

Observers of the Latin American scene said Kennedy could not go to Brazil during the political crisis without creating the impression that he was backing one side or the other.

The President and Mrs. Kennedy had planned to leave for Brazil July 30.

Continuance Granted In 'False Report' Case

A not guilty plea was entered and a continuance was granted for a West End man when he was arraigned in Municipal Court today on a charge of furnishing false information to the police department.

The innocent plea was entered for Harry Thomas Woolley, 906 Fairview St., by his counsel, Atty. Paul Tobin, who asked the continuance to allow time to prepare the defense. Judge Samuel M. Chertoff scheduled the trial Wednesday at 9 a. m. and continued Woolley's $500 bond.

The affidavit against Woolley was filed by Patrolman Paul E. Carter alleging he "knowingly" gave a false report to police Tuesday by claiming his car was stolen, "well knowing" it was not

Union To Air Requests On New Pottery Pacts

The Generalware Wage Policy Contract Negotiating Committee will meet Sept. 13 in Cincinnati to draw up proposals to be presented to manufacturers in negotiating new contracts with the U. S. Potters Association and five chinaware manufacturers, the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters said today.

Current two year contracts with both groups run out Dec. 1. The union's conferees will meet at the Netherland Plaza Hotel. Arrangements for the committee meeting were announced previously, except for the date.

Colorful Civil War Unit

400 From County Served In 104th Ohio Infantry

By GLENN WAIGHT

"Freemen to the Rescue" read an advertisement in the East Liverpool Mercury 100 years ago this month. "Recruits wanted immediately for the 104th Ohio Volunteer Infantry."

Reactivation of the Civil War regiment, in which the largest contingent of Columbiana County men served in the conflict, has brought renewed interest in the 1862-65 unit, led by brusque and burly Gen. James W. Reilly, a Wellsville attorney.

Over 400 men from Wellsville, Lisbon, East Palestine, Salem, East Liverpool and rural areas fought in the regiment, which took part in 13 battles, including the seige of Knoxville, the capture of Atlanta and a bloody contest at Franklin, Tenn.

In response to a call by President Lincoln for 300,000 men in July 1862, Gov. David Tod of Ohio sought 50,000 as the state's quota and the 104th was recruited from Columbiana, Stark, Portage and Summit Counties. Reilly, 34, then serving in the State Legislature, was appointed colonel.

Joseph Riddle of Wellsville was commissioned captain of Wellsville's Co. F, and Robert Taggart of East Palestine was named first lieutenant, later captain, for Palestine's Co. C. The present Capt. Taggart School was named for him.

The unit was mustered in at Camp Massillon Aug. 30, 1862, and was soon on its way to Cincinnati, then threatened by a rebel force under Gen. Kirby Smith. In a skirmish south of Covington Sept. 3, the unit lost a man

Session Opens Monday

49 Area Delegates Await Pottery Union's Meeting

Forty-nine delegates from the East Liverpool area representing 18 locals will head for San Francisco this weekend for the opening of the 68th annual convention of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters Monday at the Jack Tar Hotel.

The 49 will be among 186 delegates from all parts of the United States and several Canadian provinces who will be seated when E. L. Wheatley, international president, bangs the gavel for the first session.

They represent plants engaged in the production of dinnerware, chinaware, sanitary plumbing fixtures, porcelain refractories and tile products.

Some delegates left earlier by auto, but many will fly to the West Coast city on Saturday.

Members of the union's Executive Board, which includes Wheatley, Charles F. Jordan, secretary-treasurer, and 10 vice presidents, left Wednesday and will hold a two-day session prior to the convention's opening.

During the convention, which is being held about two weeks later than usual, the delegates will consider 77 resolutions in the printed program submitted by the various local unions and others to reach the floor.

Prior to any action, the resolutions will be considered by various committees.

The resolutions to be considered include proposals to eliminate the posts of organizers and substitute vice presidents up to 18; move international headquarters to Washington; require office

Negotiators In Lisbon Report 'No Progress'

LISBON — Union and management representatives report "no progress" in settlement of the strike at the Thomas Works of H. K. Porter Co., Inc., after a meeting here Thursday with a federal conciliator from Akron.

The plant has been closed by a wage dispute since July 1, when Local 797, Brick and Clay Workers of America, rejected the company's offer. Thomas Works employs 140 in the production of porcelain insulators for the electrical trade.

Spokesmen for both sides said they expect further meetings with the mediator.

Out-Of-World Rivalry With France

British Jump Gun In First Telephone Call By Telstar

NEW YORK (AP)—The British jumped the gun and put through the first trans-Atlantic telephone call via Telstar Thursday night. The space communications satellite thus generated an out-of-this-world rivalry between the English and the French.

France made an unscheduled start on transatlantic telecasting Wednesday night. The British called it a "clear breach of faith" and, in apparent retaliation, beat the French to the draw on international phone calls via space.

The call between scientists in Britain and the United States lasted about 10 minutes and concerned mainly technical matters.

A spokesman for the British Post Office, which controls broadcasting in England much as the Federal Communications Commission does here, termed the experiment a success.

The French denied they broke an agreement which called for the first European television program to be received in the U.S. July 23. Citing a technicality, the French said the agreement provided that the joint European telecast would be "live," while theirs was prerecorded.

The French program included songs by actor Yves Montand and other entertainers. It was seen in American homes, as was a "live" British telecast bounced off the satellite a few hours later.

The European Broadcasting Union, in a communique issued in Geneva, said the French telecast violated the international agreement "that no TV material of entertainment or informative character be transmitted in advance of the joint Eurovision project."

The first formal transatlantic telephone call via Telstar had been scheduled for tonight between the United States and France.

Law Omits Clause For Reciprocity

Ordinance Passes At Single Session; Rules Suspended

Midland Borough Council Thursday night enacted a new income tax of one per cent, affecting both residents and non-residents employed there, and timed it to be effective from Aug. 12 through Dec. 31.

Approved under suspension of rules, the tax will produce about $120,000 to offset a revenue loss of $70,000 expected when the borough is required to refund money collected in occupation taxes in 1961, along with the receipts which had been expected this year from the outlawed tax.

The tax amounts to $1 on each $100 of earnings or other income, compared to a levy of 80 cents per $100 collected in East Liverpool.

No Reciprocity

But there is no provision for a reciprocal agreement that would allow Ohio or West Virginia residents to claim credit for income taxes they pay in their own communities.

At the end of the year, the ordinance provides there will be a "settle off period" in which taxes will be returned to other Pennsylvania communities where persons employed in Midland reside and also pay a tax.

The tax will affect about 3,000 persons who are employed in Midland but live outside the community. The tax will be withheld by employers.

The ordinance provides the tax will be collected "on salaries, wages, commissions and other compensation of resident and nonresident employes and on net profits earned by businesses, professions or other activities conducted by residents on non-residents."

Enabling Act Cited

It was passed under an enabling act of the Pennsylvania Legislature approved in June 1947.

Ribicoff Quits Cabinet Post; Eyes Senate

Democrat Expected To Be Nominated In Connecticut

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Abraham A. Ribicoff, the first member of President Kennedy's Cabinet to resign, headed for the Connecticut Democratic state convention tonight to fight for the nomination for U.S. Senator.

With the backing of Democratic National Chairman John Bailey and other party leaders, Ribicoff is expected to get the nomination without trouble.

"I like the challenge of elective office," Ribicoff said Thursday night in a television speech announcing his resignation as secretary of health, education and welfare.

Challenge is what he promptly got from his opponent for the nomination, Congressman-at-large Frank Kowalski.

Kowalski issued a statement claiming he had been offered U.S. Sen. Thomas Dodd's job if he would consent to run again for Congress this year and leave the field clear for Ribicoff.

Dodd's current term ends in 1964.

Ribicoff and Bailey, both targets of Kowalski's frequent charges of bossism, pooh-poohed his accusation.

The convention opens tonight with Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., Senate majority leader, scheduled to deliver the keynote address. The business of choosing candidates will begin Saturday.

Ribicoff said one of his principal motives in seeking a seat in the Senate was to be able to vote in support of the programs he championed while a Cabinet member.

President Kennedy was expected today to release Ribicoff's letter of resignation and his own reply.

No Progress Reported On Berlin Talks

Nearing Standstill; Arms Negotiations Also Nearly Stalled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Berlin settlement talks between the United States and Russia seem to be grinding to a standstill. East-West negotiations on disarmament similarly appear on the verge of stalemate.

Fired County Workers Sue For Salaries

$11,729 Requested In Civil Actions Of Women Democrats

LISBON — Four women who claim "wrongful dismissal" from Courthouse jobs sued the county commissioners Thursday for salaries for the months they were off the jobs.

Plaintiffs in the individual actions totaling $11,729.88, with jobs held and amounts asked:

Mrs. Jane Case, Columbiana, switchboard operator, $3,952.50; Mrs. Ruth Wining, Columbiana, dog license department clerk, $3,040.25; Miss Patricia A. Barborak, West Point, photostat operator, $2,587.13, and Mrs. Camilla Smith, 937 Main St., Wellsville, microfilm operator, $2,250.

All were Democratic appointees replaced by Republicans Feb. 1, 1961, after the Board of Commissioners returned to GOP control. The discharged employes appealed on grounds they had Civil Service protection and won their case in the Seventh District Court of Appeals and in the Ohio Supreme Court.

County commissioners reinstated Mrs. Case, Mrs. Wining and Miss Barborak last May 16, but fired them within a day or two for alleged political activity in violation of Civil Service laws. The microfilm operator position was abolished last November.

Mrs. Case's appeal to the State Department of Personnel Board of Review will be heard this month in Courtroom 2. Originally scheduled for July 24, it has been postponed until Thursday, July 26. Mrs. Wining and Miss Barborak chose not to contest the recent firing and found other work.

In actions filed yesterday, Mrs. Wining and Miss Barborak listed earnings in outside jobs during the 15½-month layoff and deducted those earnings from their claims. Mrs. Case and Mrs. Smith said they were unable to find other work.

Since Republican appointees received no pay during the 15½ months, they may have to take similar action for reimbursement.

West Ban-Bomb Flags Seized In Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—Russian security men seized ban-the-bomb banners today when two-dozen young Westerners unfurled them in Red Square.

The demonstrators, mostly British but with a sprinkling of Americans and Scandinavians, had been warned earlier they would be deported if they went through with their plans to denounce nuclear testing just beneath the Kremlin walls.

Two Killed, 41 Injured In Bus Accident

BELLEVILLE, Ind. (AP) — A Greyhound Scenicruiser snagged the corner of a truck loaded with lead on U.S. 40 west of Belleville early today, and two passengers were killed and 41 injured.

Dead are William David Neville, about 67, Edinburg, Ind., and a woman identified tentatively as Mrs. Rada Szkiewicz of Philadelphia, Pa.

Injured critically were Mrs. Jennie Markieivic of Philadelphia, sister of Mrs. Szkiewicz; her son, John Markieivic of Philadelphia, and Charles Jones, 42, Arlington, Tex.

The bus driver, Robert L. Schlagenhauf, 51, Indianapolis, and the truck driver, Joseph M. McCorkhill, 49, Anderson, Ind., were not injured.

State police said Schlagenhauf told them he pulled out to pass the truck on the dual lane highway and the bus struck the left rear corner of the truck trailer. The right side of the bus was ripped open, and the two vehicles careened 500 feet along the highway.

Twenty-one of the injured were taken to Methodist Hospital in Indianapolis, 20 miles east of Belleville, and 20 of the less seriously hurt were taken to Marion County General Hospital in Indianapolis.

The passengers who were killed or seriously injured were all riding on the lower level of the two-level bus, which was traveling from California to New York.

Brazil Trip Is Postponed By Kennedy

Official Reasons Cited As Congress Windup, Elections

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has postponed until mid-November his planned visit to Brazil.

The official reasons: The approaching windup of the congressional session, plus the fact that election campaigns are coming up in both the United States and Brazil.

But experts on Latin America read into Thursday's announcement concern that a presidential visit during the current Brazilian political crisis could be labeled Yankee intervention.

The White House announcement did not mention Brazil's internal troubles. President Joao Goulart, who recently visited the United States, has been disputing with conservative factions over the type of administration Brazil should have.

Two prime ministers have resigned during the past two weeks, Brazil's congress has rejected a third, and Goulart's latest choice for the post has not been able to form a cabinet.

Observers of the Latin American scene said Kennedy could not go to Brazil during the political crisis without creating the impression that he was backing one side or the other.

The President and Mrs. Kennedy had planned to leave for Brazil July 30.

Continuance Granted In 'False Report' Case

A not guilty plea was entered and a continuance was granted for a West End man when he was arraigned in Municipal Court today on a charge of furnishing false information to the police department.

The innocent plea was entered for Harry Thomas Woolley, 906 Fairview St., by his counsel, Atty. Paul Tobin, who asked the continuance to allow time to prepare the defense. Judge Samuel M. Chertoff scheduled the trial Wednesday at 9 a. m. and continued Woolley's $500 bond.

The affidavit against Woolley was filed by Patrolman Paul E. Carter alleging he "knowingly" gave a false report to police Tuesday by claiming his car was stolen, "well knowing" it was not

Colorful Civil War Unit

400 From County Served In 104th Ohio Infantry

By GLENN WAIGHT

"Freemen to the Rescue" read an advertisement in the East Liverpool Mercury 100 years ago this month. "Recruits wanted immediately for the 104th Ohio Volunteer Infantry."

Reactivation of the Civil War regiment, in which the largest contingent of Columbiana County men served in the conflict, has brought renewed interest in the 1862-65 unit, led by brusque and burly Gen. James W. Reilly, a Wellsville attorney.

Over 400 men from Wellsville, Lisbon, East Palestine, Salem, East Liverpool and rural areas fought in the regiment, which took part in 13 battles, including the seige of Knoxville, the capture of Atlanta and a bloody contest at Franklin, Tenn.

In response to a call by President Lincoln for 300,000 men in July 1862, Gov. David Tod of Ohio sought 50,000 as the state's quota and the 104th was recruited from Columbiana, Stark, Portage and Summit Counties. Reilly, 34, then serving in the State Legislature, was appointed colonel.

Joseph Riddle of Wellsville was commissioned captain of Wellsville's Co. F, and Robert Taggart of East Palestine was named first lieutenant, later captain, for Palestine's Co. C. The present Capt. Taggart School was named for him.

The unit was mustered in at Camp Massillon Aug. 30, 1862, and was soon on its way to Cincinnati, then threatened by a rebel force under Gen. Kirby Smith. In a skirmish south of Covington Sept. 3, the unit lost a man

Union To Air Requests On New Pottery Pacts

The Generalware Wage Policy Contract Negotiating Committee will meet Sept. 13 in Cincinnati to draw up proposals to be presented to manufacturers in negotiating new contracts with the U. S. Potters Association and five chinaware manufacturers, the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters said today.

Current two year contracts with both groups run out Dec. 1. The union's conferees will meet at the Netherland Plaza Hotel. Arrangements for the committee meeting were announced previously, except for the date.

Session Opens Monday

49 Area Delegates Await Pottery Union's Meeting

Forty-nine delegates from the East Liverpool area representing 18 locals will head for San Francisco this weekend for the opening of the 68th annual convention of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters Monday at the Jack Tar Hotel.

The 49 will be among 186 delegates from all parts of the United States and several Canadian provinces who will be seated when E. L. Wheatley, international president, bangs the gavel for the first session.

They represent plants engaged in the production of dinnerware, chinaware, sanitary plumbing fixtures, porcelain refractories and tile products.

Some delegates left earlier by auto, but many will fly to the West Coast city on Saturday.

Members of the union's Executive Board, which includes Wheatley, Charles F. Jordan, secretary-treasurer, and 10 vice presidents, left Wednesday and will hold a two-day session prior to the convention's opening.

During the convention, which is being held about two weeks later than usual, the delegates will consider 77 resolutions in the printed program submitted by the various local unions and others to reach the floor.

Prior to any action, the resolutions will be considered by various committees.

The resolutions to be considered include proposals to eliminate the posts of organizers and substitute vice presidents up to 18; move international headquarters to Washington; require office

Negotiators In Lisbon Report 'No Progress'

LISBON — Union and management representatives report "no progress" in settlement of the strike at the Thomas Works of H. K. Porter Co., Inc., after a meeting here Thursday with a federal conciliator from Akron.

The plant has been closed by a wage dispute since July 1, when Local 797, Brick and Clay Workers of America, rejected the company's offer. Thomas Works employs 140 in the production of porcelain insulators for the electrical trade.

Spokesmen for both sides said they expect further meetings with the mediator.

In West Virginia

House Probers To Hear Account Of Road Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — House highway investigators planned today to hear a step-by-step account of the taking of land for a Beckley, W. Va., road project.

"As an illustration of the situation in other areas, we want to bring out what happened at every step along the way in Beckley," explained Walter May, counsel of the Federal-aid Highway Investigating Committee.

The committee seeks to bring out testimony about appraisals and reappraisals, methods of negotiating, total money spent and comments of property owners.

Testimony will focus on the taking some years ago by the State Road Commission of four blocks —1,500 feet—on South Oakwood Avenue, now known as South Valley Drive.

"The testimony about Beckley will show how costly the West Virginia highway construction operation has been," May told a reporter.

Four Beckley property owners and the chief of the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads" appraisal and acquisition branch are scheduled to testify.

Frank Wall, the federal official, is slated to tell of appraisals he made of Beckley properties following those made by appraisers for the State Road Commission.

The Beckley property owners listed to testify are B. H. Hopkins, Ned Ragland, John Ward and Earl E. Bibb Sr.

The committee heard yesterday from two West Virginia district highway right-of-way agents — Henry H. Price of Danville and Charles G. White of French Creek — and from George Burgess a committee investigator.

Burgess said two appraisers submitted 28 identical estimates in what were supposed to be independent appraisals.

Burgess said the appraisers — R. R. Colerider of Buckhannon and Aubrey Halstead of Oak Hill —also produced nine other appraisals which were almost identical.

Asked if he knew of this "copying" of appraisals, White said he understood that Colerider was working under Halstead on a training basis. He said he was unaware that appraisers were "comparing and adjusting" their appraisals.

Price told the committee it was customary in West Virginia for highway jobs to be passed out as patronage by both parties. He said Republican leaders offered him jobs checking beer and liquor joints, which he turned down, before he was given the highway job.

He also testified that sometimes construction work was actually begun on projects in West Virginia before the state had acquired right-of-way land.

Rep. John F. Baldwin Jr., R-Calif., described this as "a fantastic way for a highway department to operate."

He asked whether this practice is current in West Virginia.

"I don't know, I guess it is," Price replied.

Board Action Clears Way For Use Of Training Site

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Action by the State Controlling Board has cleared the way for full use of the Training Institute of Central Ohio, a Columbus facility for unruly inmates of the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster.

The board voted 4-1 Thursday to release $200,000 to equip unused portions of the 200 - bed facility. The institute has been half in use since its completion last year.

Also approved was the expenditure of $70,000 to clean, purify and open an outdoor swimming pool at the Juvenile Diagnostic Center here. The funds in both cases were available from $4.5 million unspent by the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction during the last fiscal year.

The board's action came in the midst of criticism of the department's failure to make full use of $800,000 worth of new buildings here, assertedly from lack of funds.

Governor Michael V. DiSalle termed the $270,000 for the two institutions "too little and too late." He added that the money will not provide the answer for juvenile delinquent treatment, complete staffing of the diagnostic center and overcrowding of industrial schools.

House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, took exception to claims that $2 million appropriated last November was not available until this March.

Cloudy said an attorney general's opinion to the Finance Department held that the appropriation was available on enactment.

Dr. Robert A. Haines, director of the department, had said the funds were not available because of a freeze on department employment to stay within the state budget.

American school children, despite all their complaints, have the shortest school term in the world. European children, for example, attend classes six days a week, 10 months a year. They are in the classroom 240 days per year, compared with only 180 days for American pupils.

Local Asphalt Plant Dedicated

Opening of the Tri-State Asphalt Corp.'s new River Rd. plant was marked at a brief dedication Thursday afternoon with representatives of the company, city officials and Chamber of Commerce representatives.

The plant will employ about five men plus truckers to haul aggregate from Midland to the plant site near Ralstons Crossing and the blacktop mix to road jobs. It currently is supplying blacktop for a project on Pennsylvania Route 18 from Route 30 to Frankfort Springs.

The plant was relocated here from Martins Ferry when the site in the Belmont County city was sold for a market.

Tenting On The Old Camp Ground

A storm that started to blow up over the National Republican Citizens Committee has subsided, according to Rep. William E. Miller, R-N.Y., chairman of the Republican National Committee, and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee.

To round out the roster of Republicans involved in this threatened storm, Dwight D. Eisenhower must be mentioned. The National Republican Citizens Committee had been organized with his blessing, to the consternation of Sen. Goldwater.

It's the oldest story in partisan politics.

The best way to attract voters is to put as many faces on a party as possible, but the trick is to keep the faces pointed in the same direction. Mr. Eisenhower was propelled into party power by a Citizens for Eisenhower Committee, to the consternation of hard-core Republicans who wanted to nominate Robert A. Taft in 1952.

Wendell L. Willkie was the beneficiary of a "citizens movement" that left the party regulars high and dry in 1940. Nelson A. Rockefeller went looking for "citizen" support in 1960 and, failing to find it, canceled his candidacy for the Republican nomination.

POLITICAL parties are not monolithic. They are not exclusive. They are undisciplined and organized so loosely they scarcely can claim to be organized at all. They literally are up for grabs, which is the merit of the two-party system. No faction can lock up or nail down a party permanently.

Unlike the Democratic party, which crowds factions as diverse as Southern reactionaries and labor into the same tent, Republicans always pitch separate tents. Their task then is to persuade leaders from each tent to come to uneasy terms with one another. It's never easy.

Mr. Eisenhower, who came into political eminence as a result of factionalism, is now in a position to run a faction of his own—the National Republican Citizens Committee.

SEN. GOLDWATER is pretty much of a factionalist himself, as Gov. Rockefeller will be if he makes a try for the Republican nomination.

Then there's Richard M. Nixon and . . .

Well, that's why they call it the "great game of politics." In place of a ball, they kick the chairman of the national committee back and forth until he's limp—and that's what is happening to Rep. Miller, caught between the Eisenhowerites and the Goldwaterites, with the Rockefellerites still to be heard from and the Nixonites hoping for the best in California.

Here Comes A Free Lunch

There always has been solid sense in the business warning to employes who talk about getting something for nothing. There's no such thing as a free lunch.

It's true.

There's no such thing as a free lunch when the federal government gives away part of its revenue in the form of a tax cut either.

Someone always pays.

Unless the government cuts its expenses in the same amount it cuts its revenues, it is only adding to its operating deficit and writing the shortage on the cuff.

That's inflation.

INFLATION means the buying power of the dollar is watered down to conceal how much of its value has been taken away by the government's failure to operate on a pay-as-you-go basis.

It means the credit of the country is projected into future generations to conceal from the current generation it is living beyond its income. We are in the red now. A tax cut will put us in the red even further, unless costs are cut in the same ratio.

Only one thing could save the federal government from the accusation it is bamboozling its citizens and especially its business enterprise with a free lunch in the form of a tax cut with no corresponding cutback in operating costs.

That is the possibility of stimulating enterprise strongly enough with a tax cut to produce a net increase in wealth large enough to produce more government revenue even though tax rates are lower.

That has happened before. It could happen again, though no one is claiming it now is part of the government's tax planning.

The cut is being presented at this time as the Kennedy administration's way of reassuring business enterprise that he is on its side; that he is not an enemy of the economic system which supports the government.

THIS IS a fine, upright purpose.

The fact remains that any kind of a tax cut without cutting expenses is a bamboozle. It amounts to telling the beneficiaries they are about to receive a free lunch.

As every hard-headed businessman knows—and loves to say — there "ain't no such thing as a free lunch." Not even when the government dishes it out.

Someone always pays.

If it means inflation, everybody pays.

And What Would They Look At?

The International Travel Act of 1961 is now a year old, and its bright promise is not being fulfilled, says Sylvia Porter, business columnist. The bright promise was getting back some of the billions U.S. tourists have been spending overseas.

But tourists are not being lured here by the International Travel Act of 1961, which put the U.S. government in charge of making the idea of visiting this country attractive. Miss Porter does not dig deeply into the reasons, but they require little excavating. They are on the surface.

There aren't enough potential customers abroad to create a demand for touring in the United States. Their standard of living, though rising, is far below the point that produces surplus funds for traveling. Moreover, among those who do come there is a shock in store when they encounter U.S. prices.

Unlike the Old World, there is a scarcity of facilities here, for low-budget tourist. There also is a scarcity of hospitality for travelers who do not speak the language and know the customs. What guarantee would a colored visitor have against segregation? What would happen to a Frenchman who became embroiled with a traffic policeman? Who would understand that an Englishman meant no harm in taking his dog into a restaurant.

And what would tourists look at here? Our historic buildings have been torn down to make room for parking lots? Our monuments are frequently in a state of littered decay. Our citizens are tongue-tied about the history of their country and blank about the history of their locality.

The longer the tourists wait, the better off they'll be — and so will we.

Beauty In Britain

By Truman Twill

When we were traveling in England, Wales and Scotland I wondered how many centuries it would take to make our country look clean.

Their highways, villages and cities are old, old, old. Britons cherish antiquity and are prodigiously jealous of its appearance.

Many times during our inspection of castles and cathedrals we joked the steadiest employment a man could have would be ruin-restoring. The same is true in all old counties. Our French friend Jacques Tharaldsen reminded us at Versailles that most of what we were seeing was the result of restoration; that when the savage mobs had done their damage and time had done its damage there wasn't really much left of the original structure.

What most impresses a visitor like me who has lived all his life in the messy clutter that uglifies the American landscape is the neatness of the British. They really work at it. Roadside posters show a smirking lion admonishing travelers to keep Britain tidy. You grow so conscious of tidiness you feel like stopping the car and picking up scraps of paper to get them out of sight.

There are no unsurfaced roads and no unsurfaced berms. All motor vehicles are spotless. There is almost never any snow or ice, no salt is used; motor vehicles do not rust. A 15-year-old car is no novelty.

Most roads are lined to the curb with either hedges or walls, and in many places trees have grown together over the top, to make a green arch. It is like driving through an endless park.

Granted the hedges sometimes are too high to see over and sometimes need to be trimmed and the walls aren't always in perfect repair, you balance this against the way every dwelling is graced with incredibly large roses universal in summertime and those lush green lawns that are England's trademark. It is a beautiful country.

Nothing ever seems out of place, even in the towns. Road surfaces, curbs and sidewalks are kept in sound repair. There are no billboards to mar the countryside. There are no automobile graveyards, no junkpiles, no weed-grown lots.

Even in the grit and grime of the industrial towns and port cities there is a visible and impressive sense of order—a freedom from the clutter and messiness that Americans seem to prefer.

How many centuries would it take to make our country look clean? I don't believe we have the attitude that would make it possible in the foreseeable future.

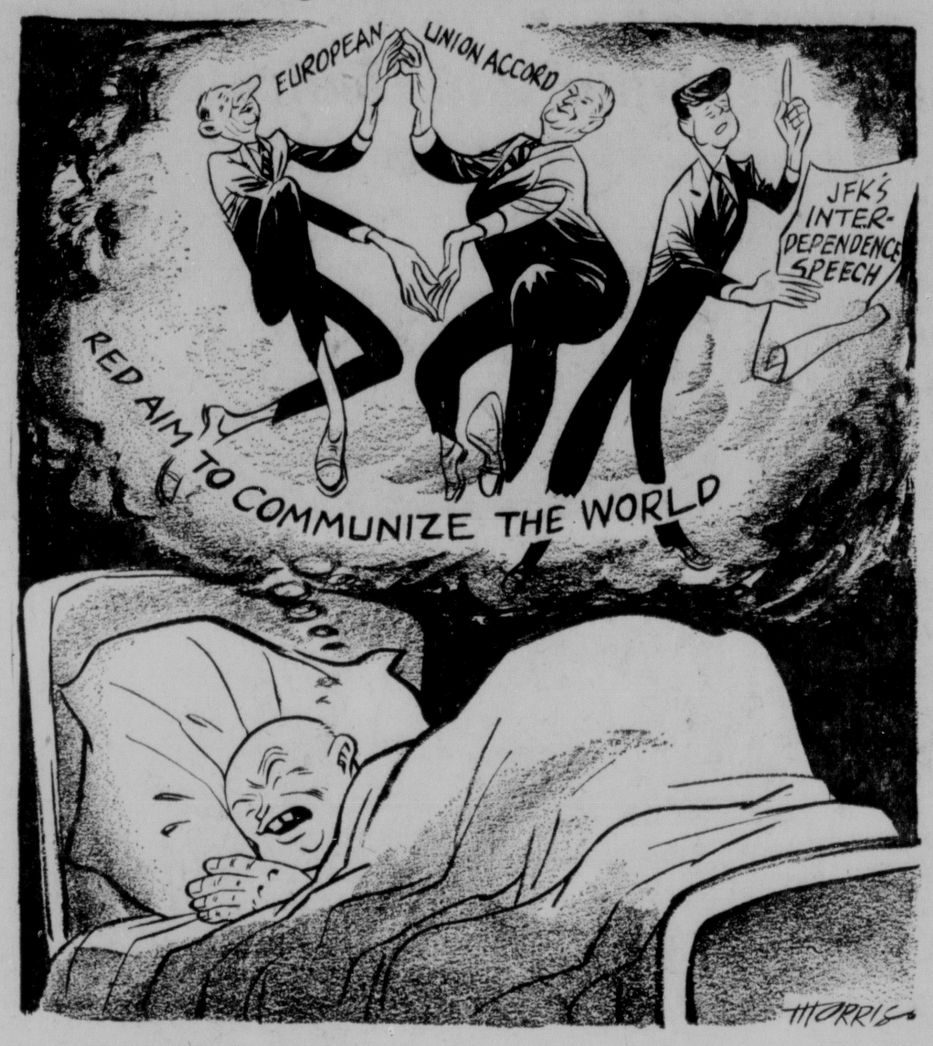

In a seven-block stroll in my own town I saw more filth, litter, neglect and sheer shabbiness than I saw in 1,200 miles of motoring and walking in Britain.

We walked through pastures that looked like golf courses to reach places like Hadrian's Wall. The farm fields around Stonehenge looked as if they had been laid out as lawns on an estate. Perhaps it's because the ubiquitous sheep keep everything pared down to the nub, though the sheep at our house certainly don't get the same effect.

British roads are often narrow but always good. Britain is, in effect, a giant gravel pit and stone quarry; it has all the makings. They're still using road beds laid down by the Romans, and all established roads are cut deep into the earth, giving the impression of hard-surfaced ditches with grassy sides.

How did we like England? We liked England very much. Isn't that the idea of travel? Wouldn't it be silly to go somewhere with the idea of not liking it?

A Nightmare In His Dreams

Democrat Criticizes GOP Stand

By John Bailey

Mr. John Bailey, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, was invited by Victor Riesel to be a guest columnist. In the following article, Mr. Bailey tells what he thinks of the Republican party.

A friend of mine, discussing the elections this fall, had this to say about a Republican victory:

"I suppose it wouldn't be too bad if someone did a face lifting job on them. But have you ever tried to lift an elephant's face?"

The Republicans need a face-lifting because their chief distinction is a similarity to the leader of the French revolution who said:

"There go my people. I must find out where they are going, so I can lead them."

Unfortunately, for the Republicans, the people are already following Democratic leadership, because the Democrats lead where the people want to go.

Why do we have such a rapport with the people?

Because we feel that a President and a Congress are not elected to be suspicious of the needs of its people.

That they are not elected to insure that there will be no changes, no improvements.

THAT THEY ARE not elected for the purpose of telling those in need that they should look somewhere else for help.

But—that a President and a Congress are elected so that they might serve the people, not fear them.

A Democratic Congress, led by President Kennedy, has already pulled this country out of a recession.

Unemployment has dropped for six straight months. And, you will remember, unemployment benefits were extended temporarily when this administration took office.

The Area Redevelopment program has been established as a basis for building for the future.

The minimum wage has been increased to $1.25.

We have a pilot program for job retraining for workers automated out of their jobs.

These are some of the accomplishments of the combination of Kennedy leadership and a Democratic Congress.

But there have been times when Republican obstructionism has blocked our programs.

THE FAILURE of the bill to create a Department of Urban Affairs is an example. This bill would have centralized in one agency all the problems that now threaten our cities and metropolitan areas.

And now on the President's health care issue, the Republicans have refused to take a stand, saying the bill does too much and too little. And they say this at the same time.

If they want more included in the bill, then we will be happy to oblige them.

But if they don't want the bill, then they should stop posing as the protectors of our senior citizens.

You remember a few months ago—during the steel crisis—that the Republicans waited 10 days until the price rise had been rescinded before they made a statement.

And now they criticize the President for seeking what they call "un-needed authority."

What that means is that they don't want a President who does his job and who fights for the consumer and the small people.

The Republicans don't want this because they don't understand this.

They have a narrow point of view, and so cannot understand our broad vision on national issues and issues that benefit the people.

BUT THE PRESIDENT still needs more Democratic members of Congress to help him with his legislative program.

There still is pending a bill that would offer job training for the millions of young people who will descend on the labor market in the next few years.

And, I am sure, the Urban Affairs bill will be coming up again.

Also, should the Republicans obstruct the health care issue, then, as sure as the tide comes in, this bill will be submitted to the next session of Congress.

Now, the Republicans have just issued a policy statement in which they criticized us for doing everything wrong — because it wasn't the Republican way.

But all they had to offer were harmless statements, that, as the Washington Post said, were "fence sitting on some issues . . . details on none."

The paper noted that the Republican candidates were left free "to fill in the blanks."

THIS HAS BEEN the Republican history: fill in the blanks so they can come up with whatever answer suits them at the moment.

The Democratic party, though, is not so content. In fact, we are restless, because we do not accept all conditions with a fatalistic "but that's the way it's always been" attitude.

We don't claim to be able to save the world.

We don't claim to have found a panacea.

But we do claim that we do not wait until a problem has overwhelmed us before confronting it.

And that's quite a difference from the Republican theory that says:

"For goodness sake, don't rock the boat. And while you're at it, please keep it anchored to the shore."

I regret that the majority of the Wellsville Council did not approve giving the people the right to vote on the proposition of a combination post office and city hall.

This project is of sufficient importance to our community that everyone should have the opportunity to say yes or no. The result of this vote also would have furnished the answer at least to a great degree as to just what the people want. As individuals you can be for the proposal or against it, but you should not be denied the right to express your preference. Before the issue becomes so clouded that we forget just what City Council was requested to do, let us have reprinted the exact wording of the request.

"Members of Wellsville City Council: Because we have been presented with the opportunity to construct a combination post office and city hall facility through a lease arrangement with the postal branch of the United States government, and feeling this project is of interest and concern to all the people of Wellsville and is a proposition that should rightly be placed before the people giving them the opportunity to express themselves, we, therefore, make the following request: That the City Council of Wellsville take the necessary steps as prescribed by law to have placed on the ballot at the November 1962 General Election the proposition of furnishing the means for the erection of a combination post office and city hall facility, such facility to be located in the area commencing with 500 Main St. and extending to the southern line of the building now occupied by the Wellsville Press. The resolution of necessity, the estimated costs, land acquisition, certification to the auditors and the drafting of the proposal in legal form to be completed and submitted prior to 90 days before the general election, in this case Aug. 8, 1962, to the Board of Elections at East Liverpool".

Nuclear Peace

By David Lawrence

Arms Balance Eases Threat Of Conflict

GENEVA

There is a change in the air here—the meeting place for international conferences of all kinds. For years now in the background of them all, there has been an awareness of the unending struggle between the East and the West for mastery in the cold war. Economic subjects — the planning for the underdeveloped countries and projects for the alleviation of human suffering—have hitherto been dealt with in the atmosphere of a mortal combat between Communist and non-Communist countries.

David Lawrence

The change that emerges today is no less real because it is not being proclaimed from the housetops or dealt with in the formal phrases of official communiques.

Despite what Soviet Premier Khrushchev said in a propaganda speech in Moscow this week about the threat of a new world war, the big development is that the prospects of an era of peace in the world have suddenly improved to a point scarcely dreamed possible a few years ago.

What really has brought about the change? For a long time the danger of nuclear war was predicated on the belief that a surprise attack might come at any time.

The debate has gone on for the last five years as to whether the United States could survive such an attack and whether America's nuclear force was really a deterrent.

If there could be no effective retaliation, then the word "deterrent" became meaningless. Now, however, America's progress in military and scientific techniques is such that, no matter how destructive the first blow might be, it is certain that there can be a reprisal so devastating that no nation led by men with common sense would wish to risk such retaliatory punishment.

To sum up, nuclear war today means mutual suicide, irrespective of the "first blow," and both East and West know it.

THIS MEANS that a stalemate has established itself and that the world is to live for a long time to come in a balance of power equilibrium analogous to that which maintained the peace of Europe for periods lasting through many decades.

This doesn't mean that all wars will be completely abolished, nor cease to cause apprehension.

It does mean that the danger of nuclear war has been removed by the very fact that each side has the means of destroying the other. During World War II and the Korean War, there was no formal agreement banning the use of poison gas. But when it was clear that both sides had ample supplies and that use by one would result in retaliatory use by the other, the weapon was abandoned by both.

So today, while wars of a limited nature may come and would cause great anxiety, the danger of a nuclear war has been removed by the progress made in the perfection and production of nuclear weapons.

But, it is being asked, would not the Red Chinese start a nuclear war since they undoubtedly will build or acquire some bombs in the not-far-distant future?

THE ANSWER is that it takes more money than the Red Chinese have, or probably ever will have, to build a strong nuclear force. Similarly, Red China can be instantly devastated if it inflicts nuclear damage on another power. Millions of Chinese on the mainland will not support any regime that might cause their own destruction. So the "mutual suicide" barrier applies to Red China, too.

It is not to be expected that there will be—for a long time to come, if ever—a treaty or agreement banning nuclear weapons. Self-preservation, however, is a stronger influence than any written pact could be. Also, there will be a tendency to cut down on armament expense as the saturation point in the power of destruction by nuclear weapons is reached.

The emphasis, therefore, is turning toward economic development. Just now, the United Nations is stressing the importance of building up the underdeveloped countries. The more prosperous nations are interested because it means the development for them ultimately of markets for their goods. But there is beginning to be more talk heard on the need for self-development of the backward countries.

IN AN ADDRESS here this week before the Economic and Social Council of the U.N., attended by representatives from many countries, Adlai Stevenson, American Ambassador to the U.N., said:

"It is not for us to devise panacea for modernizing countries. There are none. It is rather for them to examine their own situations, to develop their own country plans, to mobilize their own people, to correct defects in their social and economic structure. . . .

"The common factor of development in countries which have achieved self-sustaining growth has been neither political nor ideological, nor the possession of a wealth of resources or abundance of capital.

It has been the emphasis on the development of human beings, on training, education, and the building of institutions to develop people's capacities."

This is a healthy note to strike, and it does not make less important the furnishing of private and public funds in a program of technical assistance such as the United Nations is today sponsoring and for which Ambassador Stevenson is urging a contribution of funds by the people of every advanced country so as to help the less-fortunate human beings of a rapidly developing world—which looks now as if it will live for a long time in peace.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Walter Durkee of Grant St., Newell, bookkeeper at the offices of the North American Manufacturing Co., left for a two-week vacation at Atlantic City.

Dr. Carl W. McCutcheon introduced Robert N. Patterson of Lisbon as the speaker at the meeting of the East Liverpool Rotary Club.

J. W. McQueen of Wellsville retired after 28 years of service as a postal clerk.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—A request of Miss Margaret Gressly, school nurse at Midland, for leave of absence for the "duration" in order to enter Army service was approved by the Midland School board.

Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson and sons of Wells Ave., Wellsville, left for a vacation in Trenton, N. J.

TEN YEARS AGO—Mrs. Wayne Calhoun of Lisbon was named to the Columbiana County Board of Visitors.

James H. McTeague, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McTeague of W. Drury Ln., received a scholarship at Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh.

Odd Facts

The modern miracle of the atom dates, for practical purposes from Roentgen's discovery of X-rays in 1895, and Becquerel's accidental discovery of mysterious rays in the following year.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, in February of 1960 became the first U. S. president to make a four-nation tour of South America.

White Dwarfs

White dwarf stars are the bankrupts of the universe. They have squandered their fuel resources and are living on gravitational capital.

Astronomers believe that white dwarfs once were larger than the sun. Many of these stars are now smaller than the earth.

The crushing force of gravity has compressed the huge masses into incredibly dense material. Just one cubic inch of a dwarf may weigh hundreds of tons.

As dwarf stars shrink, they convert gravitational energy into heat and light. They may glow weakly for several billion years before the last ray flickers out.

Dr. William J. Luyten of the University of Minnesota recently discovered the smallest known white dwarf. Its diameter is only one-seventh that of the earth. One cubic inch of the star weighs 3,000 tons!

The newly-found dwarf is about 25,000 times fainter than the sun. Like other white dwarf stars, it shines so feebly that only powerful telescopes can detect it. A typical white dwarf placed the same distance from the earth as the sun would appear no larger than a distant star.

Tenting On The Old Camp Ground

A storm that started to blow up over the National Republican Citizens Committee has subsided, according to Rep. William E. Miller, R-N.Y., chairman of the Republican National Committee, and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee.

To round out the roster of Republicans involved in this threatened storm, Dwight D. Eisenhower must be mentioned. The National Republican Citizens Committee had been organized with his blessing, to the consternation of Sen. Goldwater.

It's the oldest story in partisan politics.

The best way to attract voters is to put as many faces on a party as possible, but the trick is to keep the faces pointed in the same direction. Mr. Eisenhower was propelled into party power by a Citizens for Eisenhower Committee, to the consternation of hard-core Republicans who wanted to nominate Robert A. Taft in 1952.

Wendell L. Willkie was the beneficiary of a "citizens movement" that left the party regulars high and dry in 1940. Nelson A. Rockefeller went looking for "citizen" support in 1960 and, failing to find it, canceled his candidacy for the Republican nomination.

POLITICAL parties are not monolithic. They are not exclusive. They are undisciplined and organized so loosely they scarcely can claim to be organized at all. They literally are up for grabs, which is the merit of the two-party system. No faction can lock up or nail down a party permanently.

Unlike the Democratic party, which crowds factions as diverse as Southern reactionaries and labor into the same tent, Republicans always pitch separate tents. Their task then is to persuade leaders from each tent to come to uneasy terms with one another. It's never easy.

Mr. Eisenhower, who came into political eminence as a result of factionalism, is now in a position to run a faction of his own—the National Republican Citizens Committee.

SEN. GOLDWATER is pretty much of a factionalist himself, as Gov. Rockefeller will be if he makes a try for the Republican nomination.

Then there's Richard M. Nixon and . . .

Well, that's why they call it the "great game of politics." In place of a ball, they kick the chairman of the national committee back and forth until he's limp—and that's what is happening to Rep. Miller, caught between the Eisenhowerites and the Goldwaterites, with the Rockefellerites still to be heard from and the Nixonites hoping for the best in California.

Here Comes A Free Lunch

There always has been solid sense in the business warning to employes who talk about getting something for nothing. There's no such thing as a free lunch.

It's true.

There's no such thing as a free lunch when the federal government gives away part of its revenue in the form of a tax cut either.

Someone always pays.

Unless the government cuts its expenses in the same amount it cuts its revenues, it is only adding to its operating deficit and writing the shortage on the cuff.

That's inflation.

INFLATION means the buying power of the dollar is watered down to conceal how much of its value has been taken away by the government's failure to operate on a pay-as-you-go basis.

It means the credit of the country is projected into future generations to conceal from the current generation it is living beyond its income. We are in the red now. A tax cut will put us in the red even further, unless costs are cut in the same ratio.

Only one thing could save the federal government from the accusation it is bamboozling its citizens and especially its business enterprise with a free lunch in the form of a tax cut with no corresponding cutback in operating costs.

That is the possibility of stimulating enterprise strongly enough with a tax cut to produce a net increase in wealth large enough to produce more government revenue even though tax rates are lower.

That has happened before. It could happen again, though no one is claiming it now is part of the government's tax planning.

The cut is being presented at this time as the Kennedy administration's way of reassuring business enterprise that he is on its side; that he is not an enemy of the economic system which supports the government.

THIS IS a fine, upright purpose.

The fact remains that any kind of a tax cut without cutting expenses is a bamboozle. It amounts to telling the beneficiaries they are about to receive a free lunch.

As every hard-headed businessman knows —and loves to say — there "ain't no such thing as a free lunch." Not even when the government dishes it out.

Someone always pays.

If it means inflation, everybody pays.

And What Would They Look At?

The International Travel Act of 1961 is now a year old, and its bright promise is not being fulfilled, says Sylvia Porter, business columnist. The bright promise was getting back some of the billions U.S. tourists have been spending overseas.

But tourists are not being lured here by the International Travel Act of 1961, which put the U.S. government in charge of making the idea of visiting this country attractive. Miss Porter does not dig deeply into the reasons, but they require little excavating. They are on the surface.

There aren't enough potential customers abroad to create a demand for touring in the United States. Their standard of living, though rising, is far below the point that produces surplus funds for traveling. Moreover, among those who do come there is a shock in store when they encounter U.S. prices.

Unlike the Old World, there is a scarcity of facilities here, for low-budget tourist. There also is a scarcity of hospitality for travelers who do not speak the language and know the customs. What guarantee would a colored visitor have against segregation? What would happen to a Frenchman who became embroiled with a traffic policeman? Who would understand that an Englishman meant no harm in taking his dog into a restaurant.

And what would tourists look at here? Our historic buildings have been torn down to make room for parking lots? Our monuments are frequently in a state of littered decay. Our citizens are tongue-tied about the history of their country and blank about the history of their locality.

The longer the tourists wait, the better off they'll be — and so will we.

Beauty In Britain

By Truman Twill

When we were traveling in England, Wales and Scotland I wondered how many centuries it would take to make our country look clean.

Their highways, villages and cities are old, old, old. Britons cherish antiquity and are prodigiously jealous of its appearance.

Many times during our inspection of castles and cathedrals we joked the steadiest employment a man could have would be ruin-restoring. The same is true in all old counties. Our French friend Jacques Tharaldsen reminded us at Versailles that most of what we were seeing was the result of restoration; that when the savage mobs had done their damage and time had done its damage there wasn't really much left of the original structure.

What most impresses a visitor like me who has lived all his life in the messy clutter that uglifies the American landscape is the neatness of the British. They really work at it. Roadside posters show a smirking lion admonishing travelers to keep Britain tidy. You grow so conscious of tidiness you feel like stopping the car and picking up scraps of paper to get them out of sight.

There are no unsurfaced roads and no unsurfaced berms. All motor vehicles are spotless. There is almost never any snow or ice, no salt is used; motor vehicles do not rust. A 15-year-old car is no novelty.

Most roads are lined to the curb with either hedges or walls, and in many places trees have grown together over the top, to make a green arch. It is like driving through an endless park.

This doesn't mean that all wars will be completely abolished, nor cease to cause apprehension.

It does mean that the danger of nuclear war has been removed by the very fact that each side has the means of destroying the other. During World War II and the Korean War, there was no formal agreement banning the use of poison gas. But when it was clear that both sides had ample supplies and that use by one would result in retaliatory use by the other, the weapon was abandoned by both.

So today, while wars of a limited nature may come and would cause great anxiety, the danger of a nuclear war has been removed by the progress made in the perfection and production of nuclear weapons.

But, it is being asked, would not the Red Chinese start a nuclear war since they undoubtedly will build or acquire some bombs in the not-far-distant future?

THE ANSWER is that it takes more money than the Red Chinese have, or probably ever will have, to build a strong nuclear force. Similarly, Red China can be instantly devastated if it inflicts nuclear damage on another power. Millions of Chinese on the mainland will not support any regime that might cause their own destruction. So the "mutual suicide" barrier applies to Red China, too.

It is not to be expected that there will be—for a long time to come, if ever—a treaty or agreement banning nuclear weapons. Self-preservation, however, is a stronger influence than any written pact could be. Also, there will be a tendency to cut down on armament expense as the saturation point in the power of destruction by nuclear weapons is reached.

The emphasis, therefore, is turning toward economic development. Just now, the United Nations is stressing the importance of building up the underdeveloped countries. The more prosperous nations are interested because it means the development for them ultimately of markets for their goods. But there is beginning to be more talk heard on the need for self-development of the backward countries.

IN AN ADDRESS here this week before the Economic and Social Council of the U.N., attended by representatives from many countries, Adlai Stevenson, American Ambassador to the U.N., said:

"It is not for us to devise panacea for modernizing countries. There are none. It is rather for them to examine their own situations, to develop their own country plans, to mobilize their own people, to correct defects in their social and economic structure. . .

"The common factor of development in countries which have achieved self-sustaining growth has been neither political nor ideological, nor the possession of a wealth of resources or abundance of capital.

It has been the emphasis on the development of human beings, on training, education, and the building of institutions to develop people's capacities."

This is a healthy note to strike, and it does not make less important the furnishing of private and public funds in a program of technical assistance such as the United Nations is today sponsoring and for which Ambassador Stevenson is urging a contribution of funds by the people of every advanced country so as to help the less-fortunate human beings of a rapidly developing world—which looks now as if it will live for a long time in peace.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Walter Durkee of Grant St., Newell, bookkeeper at the offices of the North American Manufacturing Co., left for a two-week vacation at Atlantic City.

Dr. Carl W. McCutcheon introduced Robert N. Patterson of Lisbon as the speaker at the meeting of the East Liverpool Rotary Club.

J. W. McQueen of Wellsville retired after 28 years of service as a postal clerk.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—A request of Miss Margaret Gressly, school nurse at Midland, for leave of absence for the "duration" in order to enter Army service was approved by the Midland School board.

Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson and sons of Wells Ave., Wellsville, left for a vacation in Trenton, N. J.

TEN YEARS AGO—Mrs. Wayne Calhoun of Lisbon was named to the Columbiana County Board of Visitors.

James H. McTeague, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McTeague of W. Drury Ln., received a scholarship at Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh.

Odd Facts

The modern miracle of the atom dates, for practical purposes from Roentgen's discovery of X-rays in 1895, and Becquerel's accidental discovery of mysterious rays in the following year.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, in February of 1960 became the first U. S. president to make a four-nation tour of South America.

White Dwarfs

White dwarf stars are the bankrupts of the universe. They have squandered their fuel resources and are living on gravitational capital.

Astronomers believe that white dwarfs once were larger than the sun. Many of these stars are now smaller than the earth.

The crushing force of gravity has compressed the huge masses into incredibly dense material. Just one cubic inch of a dwarf may weigh hundreds of tons.

As dwarf stars shrink, they convert gravitational energy into heat and light. They may glow weakly for several billion years before the last ray flickers out.

Dr. William J. Luyten of the University of Minnesota recently discovered the smallest known white dwarf. Its diameter is only one-seventh that of the earth. One cubic inch of the star weighs 3,000 tons!

The newly-found dwarf is about 25,000 times fainter than the sun. Like other white dwarf stars, it shines so feebly that only powerful telescopes can detect it. A typical white dwarf placed the same distance from the earth as the sun would appear no larger than a distant star.

Girls Wait Scout Roundup

With last-minute preparations under way, the trio above is preparing items for use at the third Girl Scout Senior Roundup Wednesday through July 31 at Button Bay State Park in Vermont.

The area contingent, which has been training at Camp Millwood, near Youngstown for the last 10 months, will conduct a demonstration on pottery-making when it appears at the arena, where all the events are staged.

Shown are the pottery wheel, press molds and slip molds which the patrol, called "The Potters," will use as a symbol of the area.

The pottery wheel was made by Chetty's father, Peter Muscari, and several of the molds were made by Charles Glover. The clay was obtained from the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. and Harker Pottery Co. and the slip from the Edwin M. Knowles China Co. The girls practiced and made a large number of items which were fired locally.

The area group of 45 scouts will leave Camp Millwood at 6 a. m. Tuesday morning and stop overnight at Corning, N. Y., where they will tour the glass factory.

The following morning, Marilee and Chetty, delegates, will head for Button Bay, and, Jill, the alternate, will go to the adjoining camp conducted by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The biggest encampment of its kind ever held in the western world, it will include about 8,500 girls and some 1,500 adults from all the 50 states and 14 foreign countries. The theme is "Honor The Past—Serve The Future."

The purpose is to give Senior Scouts a chance to meet girls from all parts of the United States and other countries with customs and goals widely differing from their own.

It provides an opportunity to develop new interests in history, geology, outer space, international affairs, photography, journalism, art and music.

One of the highlights is the "swapping" program, when small tokens typical of the girls' home towns, are exchanged. Some of the things the local girls are taking are teapots, with the pottery city inscription, ceramic daisy pins, small bottles of water, marked "From The Beautiful Ohio," maps of Ohio with East Liverpool pinpointed, felt canoes, wooden keys, miniature leather purses, drums and beanies, all inscribed with the city name.

Marilee is correspondent for the group and will keep The Review posted regularly on the activities which the state has been planning for the last two years.

workers and other IBOP employes to be members of the union; pay convention delegates $30 a day plus mileage; add $2.50 weekly for each department to the $25 weekly strike benefits, and increases weekly strike benefits to $35.

Some of the other resolutions call for salaries of international officers to be listed in the constitution; hold conventions biennially rather than annually; require an Executive Board member to resign before running for a vacancy on the same board; require convention committees to be chosen by lot rather than appointed; station an international vice president in each district office; reduce the number of convention speakers, and remove the limit of $35 a week now placed on outside earnings by members drawing strike benefits.

At the opening session, the delegates will receive an officers' report prepared by Wheatley outlining the business transacted since the 1961 convention in Miami Beach and a financial report prepared by Jordan and certified by Clark & Collins auditing firm.

Scheduled to address the delegates are William F. Schnitzler, secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO; Joseph Lewis, secretary of the Union Label and Service Trades Department of the AFL-CIO, and James L. McDevitt, director of COPE.

The annual dinner-dance will be held Wednesday night.

Although it is the 68th convention, the union is in its 72nd year, having been organized in East Liverpool Dec. 29, 1890, with Harry Leyden as the first president.

The first convention was held here in July 1891. No conventions were held in 1931, 1933, 1943 and 1945.

Man Killed; His Daughter Is Abducted

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — A Spokane public relations man was shot to death and his daughter was abducted Thursday night in front of the radio-television station where she worked.

Two hours later, two policemen arrested 20-year-old Max Earle Markham in a car on a bank of the Spokane River east of here near the Washington-Idaho border.

The girl, Nancy Fowle, 20, was with him. Police Chief Clifford Payne said she was very upset but was not hurt.

Chief Payne said Markham had a submachine gun, a hunting rifle, a .45 automatic pistol, a hunting knife and about 25 pounds of ammunition in his car. He did not resist arrest.

Killed was W. Gordon Fowle, about 50, public relations director for a savings and loan association here.

Chief Payne quoted Markham as saying, "I shot him. I suppose he's dead."

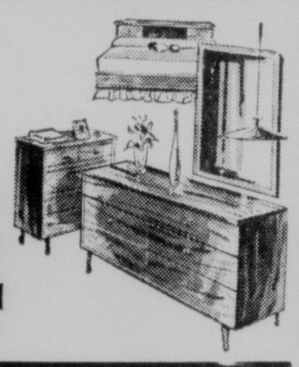

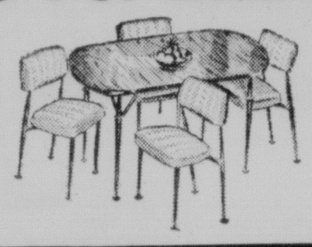

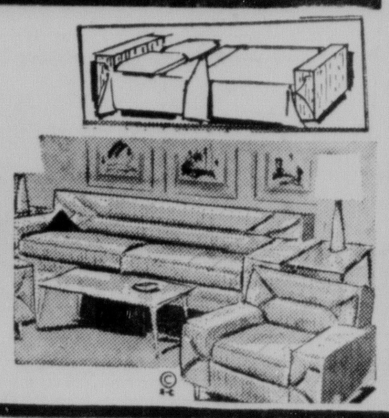

No motive for the shooting has been established.

Child Injured Slightly As Auto, Bike Hit

A 9-year-old East End girl was released from City Hospital Thursday after being X-rayed and treated for minor injuries suffered when she rode a bicycle into the path of an auto at Virginia Ave. and Fire Alley late yesterday morning.

Vicky Lynn Michaels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wright, rear 454 Mulberry St., escaped serious injury when her bicycle collided with a northbound auto operated by Bertha M. Deshler, 68, of 1602 Alpha St., police said.

The woman told police she was traveling between 15 and 20 miles an hour when the youngster rode out of the alley and hit her car. The left front door of the coupe was scraped.

Delmar Manning, 1570 Etruria St., who was in a car behind the woman, agreed with her statement, police said.

Four other mishaps were reported to police yesterday, including a three-car collision on Dresden Ave.

The crash yesterday afternoon on Dresden Ave. near E. 9th St. involved stopped autos operated by Martha L. Quarterman, 30, of Spring View Rd., R.D. 1; William Langdon, 35, of Sharon and Broda David McCoy, 19, of 221 Louisiana Ave., Chester.

According to police, the woman had halted to make a left turn into a parking lot and Langdon, driving a small foreign coupe, halted behind her.

McCoy told officers he had just started up and was traveling about five miles an hour when he struck the Langdon auto and shoved it into the Quarterman car.

A collision at 12:33 p.m. on Broadway involved a southbound car operated by Claud Allison, 49, of 516 Washington St., Newell, and a backing auto operated by Floyd William Long, 49, of 1205 Center St., Wellsville.

Allison said he was headed south when Long backed from an angle parking space and his car struck the right rear quarter panel. Damage to Long's auto was negligible, police said.

Cars driven by Arthur L. Montgomery, 34, of Center St., Glenmoor, and Dorothy G. Bjers, 43, of Lisbon St., Glenmoor, were damaged in a collision Thursday at 8:55 p.m. at Summit Ln. and Jackson St., officers said.

There was damage to a chrome strip and a door of the Montgomery car and the left rear fender of the Bjers auto, officers said.

A mishap at 6th St. and Dresden Ave. at 3:56 p.m. yesterday involved a 1956 model truck owned by the Wallover Oil Co. of Virginia Ave. and driven by Carl J. Anderson, 25, of 726 Lincoln Ave. and a 1960 compact sedan driven by Dr. Alex S. Fisher, 53, of 2716 St. Clair Ave., police said.

The truck's bumper was scraped and there was minor damage to the left front fender of Dr. Fisher's car, police said.

Former Resident New Commander Of Tank Corps

A former East Liverpool resident has been named national commander of the World War's Tank Corps, an organization that developed from World War I.

He is Charles S. (Casey) Jones, who now resides in South Hills, Pittsburgh.

His election took place during the corps' reunion at Gettysburg, Pa., June 28, 29 and 30. The term will be for two years, with headquarters in Washington.

During the reunion, the delegates were paid a visit by former president Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Jones left East Liverpool in 1916 and was a member of the fire department at the time. He moved to nearby Midland and became a member of the police force there in 1917.

He then went to Pittsburgh and served as chief of the Duquesne Light Co. police force for 31 years before his retirement.

He is married and has one daughter and one granddaughter.

Parking Ban Planned At Salineville Parade

Over 75 units are registered for the parade, for which a number of prizes will be awarded. The procession is a highlight of the annual fair which began Monday on the former pottery lot and continues through Saturday night.

Albert Brammer and Bob Wilson have been appointed special officers to assist Police Chief Roy Lewis with traffic and police duties tonight and Saturday.

Pittsburgh Man, 79, Will Face 2 Charges

NEW CUMBERLAND — John E. Reno, 79, of Pittsburgh posted a $34 bond Thursday for a hearing Monday before Squire John D. Herron on charges of reckless operation and driving without using eye glasses, as required by his restricted operator's license.

Boost In Levy To Be Sought For Fairfield

MIDDLETON — The Fairfield-Waterford Board of Education Thursday night approved a resolution to submit a renewal of a current 3.2-mill levy and a new 1-mill levy for a combined 4.2-mill levy to voters in the November general election.

The new measure would be for five years and would provide needed operating funds, the board said. The effect of the completed county real estate reappraisal and an anticipated cutback in some state foundation funds will require additional local funds, members said.

The board approved a 1963 budget of $345,226 for operating funds, up from the $339,229 of the present year.

In other action, the board employed four teachers — Mrs. Winifred Urbschat, to teach Spanish on a half-day basis; Mrs. Charlotte Brennan, to teach Latin, Roger Carl, as a junior high social studies instructor, and Mrs. Shirley Ward, as first grade teacher at Fairfield.

Resignations were accepted from Pat Frazzini, junior high teacher who is going to Youngstown; Walter DeSanti, commercial teacher who is going to California, and Mrs. Marjorie Anderson, Latin and English instructor whose husband has been transferred.

Joseph Driscoll, executive head, said four teacher vacancies still exist in the system — fifth grade teacher, history teacher, commercial teacher and music instructor, along with school nurse. Mrs. Floyd Patton, appointed nurse in June, has advised the board she will be unable to accept the post.

A request for a $50 increase in the annual pay of bus drivers was approved tentatively by the board on condition of passage of the proposed operating levy in November.

The board approved establishment of all 6th grade classes in the district at the New Waterford building, to relieve crowded conditions at the Fairfield building and to centralize music students for the beginners band. Some 87 students are involved. Previously each school had grades one through six.

The purchase of 60 new seats for first grade rooms at the two buildings was approved by the board. A contract for tires for vehicles was granted to the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., lowest of three bidders.

Ralph Elliott, clerk, and Driscoll were granted permission to attend a clerks workshop July 20 at Kent State University.

Mrs. Dorothy Kaufman was rehired as cafeteria worker.

The next meeting will be Aug. 9.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Assistant Secretary of Agriculture John P. Duncan Jr. disclosed today that he has terminated an arrangement under which he had been a paid adviser to the Georgia Farm Bureau Insurance Company while in his present government post.

The firm says it does no business with the federal government.

Duncan said that under the advisory arrangement he was paid $2,000 a year by the Georgia firm. He draws $20,000 as assistant secretary.

He said in a statement that his relationship with the insurance company had been made known to appropriate officials of the department shortly after his appointment as assistant secretary in February 1961.

Child Injured Slightly As Auto, Bike Hit

A 9-year-old East End girl was released from City Hospital Thursday after being X-rayed and treated for minor injuries suffered when she rode a bicycle into the path of an auto at Virginia Ave. and Fire Alley late yesterday morning.

Vicky Lynn Michaels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wright, rear 454 Mulberry St., escaped serious injury when her bicycle collided with a northbound auto operated by Bertha M. Deshler, 68, of 1602 Alpha St., police said.

The woman told police she was traveling between 15 and 20 miles an hour when the youngster rode out of the alley and hit her car. The left front door of the coupe was scraped.

Delmar Manning, 1570 Etruria St., who was in a car behind the woman, agreed with her statement, police said.

Four other mishaps were reported to police yesterday, including a three-car collision on Dresden Ave.

The crash yesterday afternoon on Dresden Ave. near E. 9th St. involved stopped autos operated by Martha L. Quarterman, 30, of Spring View Rd., R.D. 1; William Langdon, 35, of Sharon and Broda David McCoy, 19, of 221 Louisiana Ave., Chester.

According to police, the woman had halted to make a left turn into a parking lot and Langdon, driving a small foreign coupe, halted behind her.

McCoy told officers he had just started up and was traveling about five miles an hour when he struck the Langdon auto and shoved it into the Quarterman car.

A collision at 12:33 p.m. on Broadway involved a southbound car operated by Claud Allison, 49, of 516 Washington St., Newell, and a backing auto operated by Floyd William Long, 49, of 1205 Center St., Wellsville.

Allison said he was headed south when Long backed from an angle parking space and his car struck the right rear quarter panel. Damage to Long's auto was negligible, police said.

Cars driven by Arthur L. Montgomery, 34, of Center St., Glenmoor, and Dorothy G. Bjers, 43, of Lisbon St., Glenmoor, were damaged in a collision Thursday at 8:55 p.m. at Summit Ln. and Jackson St., officers said.

There was damage to a chrome strip and a door of the Montgomery car and the left rear fender of the Bjers auto, officers said.

A mishap at 6th St. and Dresden Ave. at 3:56 p.m. yesterday involved a 1956 model truck owned by the Wallover Oil Co. of Virginia Ave. and driven by Carl J. Anderson, 25, of 726 Lincoln Ave. and a 1960 compact sedan driven by Dr. Alex S. Fisher, 53, of 2716 St. Clair Ave., police said.

The truck's bumper was scraped and there was minor damage to the left front fender of Dr. Fisher's car, police said.

Boost In Levy To Be Sought For Fairfield

MIDDLETON — The Fairfield-Waterford Board of Education Thursday night approved a resolution to submit a renewal of a current 3.2-mill levy and a new 1-mill levy for a combined 4.2-mill levy to voters in the November general election.

Council Votes Midland Levy

Council appointed Presutti and set his commission at two per cent. The motion also asked Council to appoint a committee to study a location for the new bureau.

Midland residents will have to file income tax returns as of April 15 next year, while non-resident employes will not.

At Council's June 14 meeting, Atty. Robert Masters and Joseph Hibbard, Council vice president, who presided, said the borough would reconsider the tax after the beginning of 1963.

James L. Mullen, United Steelworkers staff representative at Midland, said at the June 14 meeting he would appear last night to protest the tax. He became ill recently and did not attend.

D'Alesio Absent

Councilman Joseph D'Alesio, former Steelworker Local 1212 president, was absent. At the June 14 meeting, he had voted against a motion for publishing the legal notices of intent to pass the tax.

There will be an interest rate of 6 per cent on unpaid tax and a further penalty of one-half of one per cent of the amount for each month or fraction of a month for the first six months of non-payment.

Penalties for those convicted before the mayor for violating the new tax ordinance will be $100 on each count, plus costs, and in default of payment a 60-day jail term.

Suspension Voted

Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, borough secretary, read the ordinance and it was passed on its three readings under suspension of rules.

The ordinance sets the chief clerk's term for four years. It says he should be selected by Council by Aug. 1 or by the first Monday in May. He is to make a report to Council once a month. Council also has the power to designate the number of employes to assist the chief clerk.

According to Atty. Masters, the courts have not ordered the borough to pay back the occupation tax, which amounted to $10 a year, less discount. Only non-resident employes would receive the refund.

Former Tax Cited

The occupation tax was passed in February 1961 to meet the higher cost of government and the services the borough offers, Council said then. Five Pennsylvanian non-resident employes appealed the tax and the State Superior Court in March this year ruled the tax illegal and it applied to non-residents. Then the State Supreme Court ruled against the borough's petition to appeal the Superior Court decision.

Council said it then had no alternative but to pass an income tax. Mayor Eli Corak has been opposed to a further increase of taxes on real estate, which would raise taxes on Crucible. The mill already pays over 70 per cent of the borough's revenue. He had said the borough would "not tax the company out of Midland."

Meeting Sought

In other business, a letter was read from the Borough of Ohioville asking for a Midland representative to meet with Ohioville officials concerning the possibility of using a joint dump and sharing expenses, since the state plans to close the present dump in Cow Hollow in Ohioville Borough.

Committee To Act

Trainer also made a motion and his committee was given the power to act regarding parking places along curbs on Midland Ave. in the 13th St. area, where residents have recently installed new sidewalks.

Council voted also to return $72.80 to Crucible for taxes paid on property which the company donated to the borough in February this year.

Concussion Blamed

MURFREESBORO, Tenn. (AP) —The firing of a genuine Civil War cannon was the official opening item on the program each day for the Rutherford County Civil War Centennial this week. But after three days the committee dropped the 6:30 a.m. blast. It wasn't the noise. Residents complained the concussion from the paper and powder charge in the old relic was breaking too many windows.

killed and five wounded, including Pvt. Alex Lowery of Salem, who lost a leg.

For the remainder of the fall and winter, the regiment marched through Kentucky, chasing Confederate cavalry under Col. John Morgan — who was to streak into Columbiana County a year later.

In the fall of 1863, the regiment and other units under Gen. Ambrose Burnside marched 200 miles into east Tennessee to capture Knoxville and to repulse a rebel effort to retake the city in severe cold weather.

In the spring of 1864, the unit joined Gen. William Sherman's huge army driving for Atlanta in a pincers movement, coupled with Gen. Grant's push on Richmond, which was designed to smash the Confederacy.

The 104th was part of Gen. John Schofield's Army of the Ohio, which fought in the Resaca, Dallas and Kennesaw Mountain battles in northern Georgia and also at Utoy Creek, where the regiment was hard hit, and in the fighting around Atlanta.

When Sherman's troops headed for the coast from Atlanta, in his famed "March to the Sea" which devastated central Georgia, the 104th returned to Tennessee to protect Nashville from the still active Confederate Army under Gen. John Hood, who had evacuated Atlanta.

Hood drove north in November in a final effort to smash the Union in Tennessee and to reach the Ohio River, but Schofield's small army stood him off at Franklin, inflicting terrible casualties on the rebels, and combined Union troops at Nashville routed Hood in December.

The 104th, which held a vital position in the Union main line at Franklin, suffered its heaviest losses in the fighting. Six Wellsville men were killed, along with four from the East Palestine area, and the whole regiment lost 60 killed or wounded. However, the unit had captured 1,100 prisoners and taken 11 battle flags.

After Nashville, the regiment was transferred through Washington and landed on the North Carolina coast, taking part in the final campaign of 1865 around Wilmington and Greensboro, where the 104th was selected as the regiment to receive the weapons and stores of Gen. Joseph Johnston's army.

The unit served as a guard regiment until June, when it was sent to Cleveland and mustered out, having marched over 3,400 miles, ridden 3,000 miles by railroad and traveled 1,300 miles by boat.

The two years of fighting and marching had more than decimated the ranks of the men from the county in the regiment. Seventy - two had died from enemy action or disease and many others had suffered wounds, injuries or sickness which disabled them.

The present reactivation of the regiment in this area, by Joseph Robbins of Globe St., is designed to organize men who, with uniforms and muskets, will take part in various ceremonies, activities and parades connected with the centennial observance.

Robbins, who was connected with an Alliance reactivated unit, said he felt there should be a representation from East Liverpool and Wellsville in the program. East Palestine, Lisbon and Salem have reactivated units, he said.

Anyone interested in the 104th and its planned activities may obtain information from Robbins.

Harold J. Bissell of 462 Woodbine St. paid costs after the judge suspended a $5 fine on a charge of reckless operation, filed by a St. Clair Township police constable.

Russell Bable of 592 E. Main St., East Palestine, was fined $50 and costs for speeding, a charge which stemmed from a traffic accident several months ago.

Katherine Roberts of Lisbon was fined $10 and costs for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Council Votes Midland Levy

Council appointed Presutti and set his commission at two per cent. The motion also asked Council to appoint a committee to study a location for the new bureau.

Midland residents will have to file income tax returns as of April 15 next year, while non-resident employes will not.

At Council's June 14 meeting, Atty. Robert Masters and Joseph Hibbard, Council vice president, who presided, said the borough would reconsider the tax after the beginning of 1963.

James L. Mullen, United Steelworkers staff representative at Midland, said at the June 14 meeting he would appear last night to protest the tax. He became ill recently and did not attend.

D'Alesio Absent

Councilman Joseph D'Alesio, former Steelworker Local 1212 president, was absent. At the June 14 meeting, he had voted against a motion for publishing the legal notices of intent to pass the tax.

There will be an interest rate of 6 per cent on unpaid tax and a further penalty of one-half of one per cent of the amount for each month or fraction of a month for the first six months of non-payment.

Penalties for those convicted before the mayor for violating the new tax ordinance will be $100 on each count, plus costs, and in default of payment a 60-day jail term.

Suspension Voted

Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, borough secretary, read the ordinance and it was passed on its three readings under suspension of rules.

The ordinance sets the chief clerk's term for four years. It says he should be selected by Council by Aug. 1 or by the first Monday in May. He is to make a report to Council once a month. Council also has the power to designate the number of employes to assist the chief clerk.

According to Atty. Masters, the courts have not ordered the borough to pay back the occupation tax, which amounted to $10 a year, less discount. Only non-resident employes would receive the refund.

Former Tax Cited

The occupation tax was passed in February 1961 to meet the higher cost of government and the services the borough offers, Council said then. Five Pennsylvanian non-resident employes appealed the tax and the State Superior Court in March this year ruled the tax illegal and it applied to non-residents. Then the State Supreme Court ruled against the borough's petition to appeal the Superior Court decision.

Council said it then had no alternative but to pass an income tax. Mayor Eli Corak has been opposed to a further increase of taxes on real estate, which would raise taxes on Crucible. The mill already pays over 70 per cent of the borough's revenue. He had said the borough would "not tax the company out of Midland."

Odors Removed

DEAR HELOISE: When meat has spoiled in a refrigerator, I place a pan of uncompressed charcoal in the freezing unit and in the main body of the refrigerator.

Place fresh charcoal in each day and put the other out to dry in the sun to be used the following day. The charcoal will absorb the odors and gradually the odors will disappear.

We went on vacation and came back to a most foul-smelling refrigerator. It had been left two weeks on the defrost cycle. We are still using that "ruined" refrigerator.

Man Breaks Window To Halt Drifting Auto

William Ward, 20, of 311 W. 7th St. told police his right arm was injured Thursday night as he smashed a window in the family car when his wife locked the doors and started to drift the vehicle away after a domestic argument.

Examined at the emergency room at City Hospital, Ward was to go to a physician today for treatment, police said.

Ward told police as a climax of a quarrel his wife jumped into the auto, locked the doors and started to drift the car away. He said he knew that she could not drive and must be stopped, so he smashed his arm through the glass to halt the vehicle. Then he walked into the emergency room at the hospital, officers said.

He was treated for a two-inch laceration of the right hand and a three-inch laceration of the left hand.

Entrants Lag In Filings For County Judge

Although the filing deadline is less than a month away, no candidates have filed non-partisan petitions for election to three county court judgeships which will be filled at the Nov. 6 general election.

However, the County Election Board said three incumbent judges — Atty. James MacDonald, serving in Lisbon, Atty. Herbert Arfman in East Palestine and Luther Donbar at Salem — along with attorneys from East Palestine and Leetonia have indicated they will file.

Two of the three judges will be elected for four years and one for two years. The candidates must specify which term they are seeking, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the Election Board, said.

The deadline for the nominating petitions is Aug. 8 at 4 p.m., he added.

State law requires that those elected must be residents of the court district, which includes all of Columbiana County except East Liverpool and Liverpool Township. They are under the jurisdiction of Municipal Court.

The law specifies that County Court judges must be attorneys as of Jan. 1, O'Hanlon said, but also makes provision for incumbent judges, such as Donbar, to continue to serve.

County Courts were established several years ago by the State Legislature to replace justices of the peace elected by each township.

Jordan Selected For Housing Unit

Charles F. Jordan, secretary-treasurer of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, has been appointed to an advisory committee for Four Freedoms, Inc., to aid the organization in selection of future projects for housing retired citizens.

Jordan was appointed by William R. Steinberg, president, who said the committee will meet quarterly in Washington and when necessary to view sites and confer with architects.

"We are looking for sites all over the United States and have chosen men who understand the problems of the retired citizen and can help us in our expanding program," Steinberg said.

Serving as chairman of the committee will be Hoyt S. Haddock, vice president of Four Freedoms in charge of legislative affairs concerning the program.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A Navy jet pilot, injured seriously when his F9F6K Courgar crashed at Point Mugu, Calif., Wednesday, has been identified as Lt. Frank J. Ellis, 29. He is the son of Mrs. Louis K. Ellis of Oberlin, Ohio. His wife and two children live in Coronado, Calif.

Man In Fatal Auto Mishap Loses Permit

LISBON — A Lisbon man involved in a May 19 traffic crash that killed his wife and daughter surrendered his driver's license for a year at a 12-point hearing Thursday at the Courthouse.

Ward L. Greasel, 31, of Grant St. was one of three drivers found to be habitual traffic law violators by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Also ordered to give up driver's licenses for a year were Joseph Clyde Shields, 34, of Salem and George O. Cunningham, 59, of East Palestine.

Bureau of Motor Vehicles records showed that Greasel accumulated 15 points in the last two years for reckless operation, speeding and a flasher light violation.

He was convicted of reckless operation following the fatal crash on Route 45 north of Lisbon. Mrs. Katherine Greasel, 30, and Susan Marie, 2, were the victims.

Shields had 15 points on two convictions for driving while intoxicated and one for reckless operation.

Cunningham's record showed two convictions for driving while intoxicated in April and June this year. A professional man with an office in Darlington, Cunningham had a Pennsylvania operator's license although the court found he has been a Columbiana County resident eight years. Judge Buzzard directed that the Pennsylvania Bureau of Motor Vehicles be notified of the hearing and disposition.

In Saskatchewan

Premier Assails College In Harassing Of Doctors

REGINA, Sask. (AP)—Premier Woodrow Lloyd says the Saskatchewan College of Surgeons and Physicians is using its policing powers to harass doctors who refused to join the strike against the provincial government's socialist medical scheme.

A one-man commission is being set up to investigate complaints, especially those against doctors recruited to fill gaps in medical service since a doctors' strike began July 1.

Premier Lloyd said Thursday evidence has accumulated that the college, responsible for licensing doctors in the province, seeks to use its powers as "an offensive weapon against doctors who are not supporting the college's walkout."

The college said the charges are "completely without foundation."

Under the provincial medical professions act, the college said, it is empowered to investigate any charges against doctors and it is the duty of the college registrar to do so.

The college said it had no part in recent dismissals from two hospitals of doctors who had been recruited from Britain. It said they were recalled at the request of the local hospital boards.

Since the withdrawal of services in protest against the government's compulsory, tax-prepaid medical care plan, about 200 doctors have been providing emergency service at 40 designated hospitals. About 500 doctors are on strike.

The college provides the emergency service, coordinated by the Canadian Medical Association.

More doctors from Britain, recruited by the medical care insurance plan, were expected today. A group that arrived Tuesday began registering Thursday for practice here.

Negroes Arrested In Racial Riots Seek Refund On Bonds

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—The first of more than 730 Negroes arrested for anti-segregation demonstrations last December planned to seek refunds of cash bonds today under the terms of a biracial agreement.

Integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who unwillingly accepted freedom from jail Thursday, told a meeting of more than 1,000 Negroes that they would be reimbursed for the December bonds.

King said Police Chief Laurie Pritchett, in a conference with Negro leaders, agreed to refund the bond money on Wednesdays and Fridays. He urged those who had posted bonds to go to city hall today and ask for their money.

"Now we are testing the sincerity and good faith of the city officials and specifically of Chief Pritchett," King said.

Pritchett confirmed the agreement on the bonds and these other points—noninterference in integration of public travel facilities, including city buses should they resume operations; and opening of a channel of biracial communication. City buses were forced to shut down because of a Negro boycott earlier this year.

"It's not enough for Martin Luther King and (the Rev.) Ralph Abernathy to be free," King said. "Everybody in Albany must be free."

The two Negro leaders were freed from city jail after serving three days of a 45-day sentence for parading without a permit, a charge resulting from a December march they led.

Their $178 fines, which they refused to pay, were put up by a "well-dressed Negro man," said Pritchett.

King and Abernathy said they didn't know who paid the fines and that their constitutional rights had been violated with their ejection from jail.

McCloskey's Named Envoy To Ireland

WASHINGTON (AP)—Matthew H. McCloskey, 69, Philadelphia contractor and former Democratic party treasurer, will be packing soon for Dublin.

His nomination by President Kennedy as ambassador to Ireland was confirmed by the Senate by voice vote Thursday after Republican demands for further investigation by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee were rejected 62-30.

Democrats voted solidly against the motion by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., to have the committee review old investigations into the 1946 purchase of the St. Johns River Shipyard at Jacksonville, Fla., by the Tampa Shipbuilding Co., controlled by industrialist Louis Wolfson.

Williams said the investigations showed McCloskey pulled strings with the Maritime Commission to permit the Wolfson company to change its bid from an instalment to a cash basis to win the award of the contract in January 1946.

Williams also charged that a Wolfson employe had made a payment of $25,000 to David R. Knapp, a Maritime Commission employe, prior to the transaction.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., acting chairman of the Senate Foreign relations Committee, read a letter from McCloskey denying any participation in the Wolfson contract and any knowledge of the payment.

Rabies From Bats

Q. Is it dangerous to go into caves where there are bats? I have heard that bats have rabies.

A. Bats can have rabies and there are cases on record of human rabies from bat bites. Studies in Texas conducted by the Communicable Disease Center indicate that rabies virus can be transmitted through the air in certain bat caves. The scientists placed caged animals (dogs, cats, foxes, etc.) in a bat-infested cave. Even though a number of the animals were caged inside enclosures designed to keep out even the smallest insects, some of the animals so caged became ill and died of rabies. Prior to this experiment, scientists had thought that rabies could be transmitted only by the bite of a rabid animal.

Adhesions

Q. What causes adhesions following abdominal surgery? Do some people develop adhesions more readily than others?

A. Adhesions are most likely to form if infection (peritonitis) has occurred. Individual susceptibility probably has nothing to do with adhesion formation. Symptoms of adhesions are extremely difficult if not impossible to diagnose. However, in extreme cases, adhesions form in such a way as to cause kinking or loop-type obstruction of the bowel. When this happens, corrective surgery is required.

Fingernail Biting

Q. What causes a person to bite their fingernails? I have heard that it is due to nervousness but I know people who are the nervous type and who have nice fingernails.

A. We could pass along some pretty learned and complicated theories to explain fingernail nibbling but in the final analysis it's a habit. Nail biting isn't very hygenic nor is it sociably acceptable, but no great harm is done. Is there a cure? Yes. Just stop.

DEAR HELOISE: For instant coffee drinkers who do not drink too much coffee and find it caked in the jar . . . just pour hot water into the jar and dissolve the caked coffee and place it in refrigerator. When you need it, just pour a small amount into the cup and add boiling water.

Odors Removed

DEAR HELOISE: When meat has spoiled in a refrigerator, I place a pan of uncompressed charcoal in the freezing unit and in the main body of the refrigerator.

Place fresh charcoal in each day and put the other out to dry in the sun to be used the following day. The charcoal will absorb the odors and gradually the odors will disappear.

We went on vacation and came back to a most foul-smelling refrigerator. It had been left two weeks on the defrost cycle. We are still using that "ruined" refrigerator.

Man Breaks Window To Halt Drifting Auto

William Ward, 20, of 311 W. 7th St. told police his right arm was injured Thursday night as he smashed a window in the family car when his wife locked the doors and started to drift the vehicle away after a domestic argument.

Examined at the emergency room at City Hospital, Ward was to go to a physician today for treatment, police said.

Ward told police as a climax of a quarrel his wife jumped into the auto, locked the doors and started to drift the car away. He said he knew that she could not drive and must be stopped, so he smashed his arm through the glass to halt the vehicle. Then he walked into the emergency room at the hospital, officers said.

He was treated for a two-inch laceration of the right hand and a three-inch laceration of the left hand.

Burns Are Fatal

CLEVELAND (AP)—Miss Ruth Reiss, 57, whose clothes caught fire Sunday as she tried to light a cigarette, died of burns in Lutheran Hospital Thursday.

Entrants Lag In Filings For County Judge

Although the filing deadline is less than a month away, no candidates have filed non-partisan petitions for election to three county court judgeships which will be filled at the Nov. 6 general election.

However, the County Election Board said three incumbent judges — Atty. James MacDonald, serving in Lisbon, Atty. Herbert Arfman in East Palestine and Luther Donbar at Salem — along with attorneys from East Palestine and Leetonia have indicated they will file.

Two of the three judges will be elected for four years and one for two years. The candidates must specify which term they are seeking, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the Election Board, said.

The deadline for the nominating petitions is Aug. 8 at 4 p.m., he added.

State law requires that those elected must be residents of the court district, which includes all of Columbiana County except East Liverpool and Liverpool Township. They are under the jurisdiction of Municipal Court.

The law specifies that County Court judges must be attorneys as of Jan. 1, O'Hanlon said, but also makes provision for incumbent judges, such as Donbar, to continue to serve.

County Courts were established several years ago by the State Legislature to replace justices of the peace elected by each township.

Man In Fatal Auto Mishap Loses Permit

LISBON — A Lisbon man involved in a May 19 traffic crash that killed his wife and daughter surrendered his driver's license for a year at a 12-point hearing Thursday at the Courthouse.

Ward L. Greasel, 31, of Grant St. was one of three drivers found to be habitual traffic law violators by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Also ordered to give up driver's licenses for a year were Joseph Clyde Shields, 34, of Salem and George O. Cunningham, 59, of East Palestine.

Bureau of Motor Vehicles records showed that Greasel accumulated 15 points in the last two years for reckless operation, speeding and a flasher light violation.

He was convicted of reckless operation following the fatal crash on Route 45 north of Lisbon. Mrs. Katherine Greasel, 30, and Susan Marie, 2, were the victims.

Shields had 15 points on two convictions for driving while intoxicated and one for reckless operation.

Cunningham's record showed two convictions for driving while intoxicated in April and June this year. A professional man with an office in Darlington, Cunningham had a Pennsylvania operator's license although the court found he has been a Columbiana County resident eight years. Judge Buzzard directed that the Pennsylvania Bureau of Motor Vehicles be notified of the hearing and disposition.

Jordan Selected For Housing Unit

Charles F. Jordan, secretary-treasurer of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, has been appointed to an advisory committee for Four Freedoms, Inc., to aid the organization in selection of future projects for housing retired citizens.

Jordan was appointed by William R. Steinberg, president, who said the committee will meet quarterly in Washington and when necessary to view sites and confer with architects.

"We are looking for sites all over the United States and have chosen men who understand the problems of the retired citizen and can help us in our expanding program," Steinberg said.

Serving as chairman of the committee will be Hoyt S. Haddock, vice president of Four Freedoms in charge of legislative affairs concerning the program.

Premier Assails College In Harassing Of Doctors

REGINA, Sask. (AP)—Premier Woodrow Lloyd says the Saskatchewan College of Surgeons and Physicians is using its policing powers to harass doctors who refused to join the strike against the provincial government's socialist medical scheme.

A one-man commission is being set up to investigate complaints, especially those against doctors recruited to fill gaps in medical service since a doctors' strike began July 1.

Premier Lloyd said Thursday evidence has accumulated that the college, responsible for licensing doctors in the province, seeks to use its powers as "an offensive weapon against doctors who are not supporting the college's walkout."

The college said the charges are "completely without foundation."

Under the provincial medical professions act, the college said, it is empowered to investigate any charges against doctors and it is the duty of the college registrar to do so.

The college said it had no part in recent dismissals from two hospitals of doctors who had been recruited from Britain. It said they were recalled at the request of the local hospital boards.

Since the withdrawal of services in protest against the government's compulsory, tax-prepaid medical care plan, about 200 doctors have been providing emergency service at 40 designated hospitals. About 500 doctors are on strike.

The college provides the emergency service, coordinated by the Canadian Medical Association.

More doctors from Britain, recruited by the medical care insurance plan, were expected today. A group that arrived Tuesday began registering Thursday for practice here.

Negroes Arrested In Racial Riots Seek Refund On Bonds

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—The first of more than 730 Negroes arrested for anti-segregation demonstrations last December planned to seek refunds of cash bonds today under the terms of a biracial agreement.

Integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who unwillingly accepted freedom from jail Thursday, told a meeting of more than 1,000 Negroes that they would be reimbursed for the December bonds.

King said Police Chief Laurie Pritchett, in a conference with Negro leaders, agreed to refund the bond money on Wednesdays and Fridays. He urged those who had posted bonds to go to city hall today and ask for their money.

"Now we are testing the sincerity and good faith of the city officials and specifically of Chief Pritchett," King said.

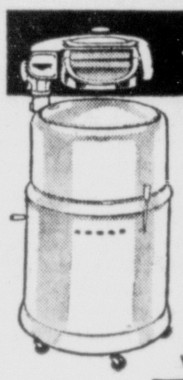

Pritchett confirmed the agreement on the bonds and these other points—noninterference in integration of public travel facilities, including city buses should they resume operations; and opening of a channel of biracial communication. City buses were forced to shut down because of a Negro boycott earlier this year.

"It's not enough for Martin Luther King and (the Rev.) Ralph Abernathy to be free," King said. "Everybody in Albany must be free."

The two Negro leaders were freed from city jail after serving three days of a 45-day sentence for parading without a permit, a charge resulting from a December march they led.

Their $178 fines, which they refused to pay, were put up by a "well-dressed Negro man," said Pritchett.

King and Abernathy said they didn't know who paid the fines and that their constitutional rights had been violated with their ejection from jail.

McCloskey's Named Envoy To Ireland

WASHINGTON (AP)—Matthew H. McCloskey, 69, Philadelphia contractor and former Democratic party treasurer, will be packing soon for Dublin.

His nomination by President Kennedy as ambassador to Ireland was confirmed by the Senate by voice vote Thursday after Republican demands for further investigation by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee were rejected 62-30.

Democrats voted solidly against the motion by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., to have the committee review old investigations into the 1946 purchase of the St. Johns River Shipyard at Jacksonville, Fla., by the Tampa Shipbuilding Co., controlled by industrialist Louis Wolfson.

Williams said the investigations showed McCloskey pulled strings with the Maritime Commission to permit the Wolfson company to change its bid from an instalment to a cash basis to win the award of the contract in January 1946.

Williams also charged that a Wolfson employe had made a payment of $25,000 to David R. Knapp, a Maritime Commission employe, prior to the transaction.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., acting chairman of the Senate Foreign relations Committee, read a letter from McCloskey denying any participation in the Wolfson contract and any knowledge of the payment.

Rabies From Bats

Q. Is it dangerous to go into caves where there are bats? I have heard that bats have rabies.

A. Bats can have rabies and there are cases on record of human rabies from bat bites. Studies in Texas conducted by the Communicable Disease Center indicate that rabies virus can be transmitted through the air in certain bat caves. The scientists placed caged animals (dogs, cats, foxes, etc.) in a bat-infested cave. Even though a number of the animals were caged inside enclosures designed to keep out even the smallest insects, some of the animals so caged became ill and died of rabies. Prior to this experiment, scientists had thought that rabies could be transmitted only by the bite of a rabid animal.

Adhesions

Q. What causes adhesions following abdominal surgery? Do some people develop adhesions more readily than others?

A. Adhesions are most likely to form if infection (peritonitis) has occurred. Individual susceptibility probably has nothing to do with adhesion formation. Symptoms of adhesions are extremely difficult if not impossible to diagnose. However, in extreme cases, adhesions form in such a way as to cause kinking or loop-type obstruction of the bowel. When this happens, corrective surgery is required.

Fingernail Biting

Q. What causes a person to bite their fingernails? I have heard that it is due to nervousness but I know people who are the nervous type and who have nice fingernails.

A. We could pass along some pretty learned and complicated theories to explain fingernail nibbling but in the final analysis it's a habit. Nail biting isn't very hygenic nor is it sociably acceptable, but no great harm is done. Is there a cure? Yes. Just stop.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: In answer to the question you put to the housewives of America — "How did YOU look when you went marketing today?" I would like to reply.

I looked like a sloppy, ill-groomed, overworked housewife. And here is why: After playing chauffeur and nurse for a family of six, I pulled a few weeds, painted the storeroom and fixed some leaky faucets.

Then I started to bake a cake. I discovered I was short a few eggs, so — resplendent in grass-stained pedal-pushers, and hair in curlers, I made a quick trip to the market.

Of course I ran into the minister, my son's math teacher and the president of the League of Women Voters.

Frankly, I didn't give a hoot. My husband doesn't happen to like curlers in his face at night, so I pin my hair up during the day. By the time he comes home for dinner I'm showered, brushed and lipsticked — looking like a silverware ad in my crisp little housedress.

When he pats my freshly scrubbed face and runs his fingers through my curly hair do you think I give a plugged nickel what the people in the market thought about my appearance three hours earlier? — ELEPHANT HIDE.

Dear Elephant Hide: Let's hope you never run into your husband when you're slopping around the neighborhood looking like a mangy dog.

A Mother's Problem

Dear Ann: I am concerned about the sex life of college students. Our fourth child, now 18, will be a sophomore in college next fall. Her boy friend is attractive and intelligent. He will be a senior. They both hold campus offices.

Our other three children are college graduates. We want this girl to get her degree, too. But I learned recently that she has been sexually intimate with this young man and now I feel we should not allow her to return to college in the fall. If she became pregnant I would never forgive myself.

We have made great financial sacrifices for our children. This girl's conduct is a deep disappointment to me.

Am I right to feel that since she has failed us, we should not allow her the privilege of a higher education? Please give some badly needed counsel to a — LET-DOWN MOTHER.

Dear Mother: I can understand your deep disappointment, but you're on the wrong track. Refusing to send your daughter back to college would be purely punitive and would serve no useful purpose. A girl so punished might retaliate by becoming promiscuous.

I suggest that you have a frank talk with her. Scolding and recriminatimns will do no good. Explain that sex outside of marriage is dangerous, foolish and shortsighted, and that she is playing with dynamite.

Disrespect For Dead

Dear Ann: Recently I went to a funeral home to pay my last respects to a friend and neighbor. I was shocked to see the children of the deceased chatting nonchalantly and taking pictures with flash-bulb cameras. The oldest son had a movie camera. They took pictures of their mother beside the casket. Then they took shots of the floral offerings and candids of the people as they entered the funeral home.

The final straw was when one of the girls took a picture of her father as he lay in the casket.

I could contain myself no longer so I asked her what she was doing. She said they wanted to send pictures to relatives out of state who could not attend the funeral.

I was appalled. Tell me, please, am I being unduly critical? If so, I will change my way of thinking — WILLING TO LISTEN.

Dear Willing: Cameras and flash bulbs have no place at a funeral home. Of course it is the prerogative of the family to do as they wish, but in my opinion such goings-on are in abominable taste.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Our other three children are college graduates. We want this girl to get her degree, too. But I learned recently that she has been sexually intimate with this young man and now I feel we should not allow her to return to college in the fall. If she became pregnant I would never forgive myself.

We have made great financial sacrifices for our children. This girl's conduct is a deep disappointment to me.

Am I right to feel that since she has failed us, we should not allow her the privilege of a higher education? Please give some badly needed counsel to a — LET-DOWN MOTHER.

Dear Mother: I can understand your deep disappointment, but you're on the wrong track. Refusing to send your daughter back to college would be purely punitive and would serve no useful purpose. A girl so punished might retaliate by becoming promiscuous.

I suggest that you have a frank talk with her. Scolding and recriminatimns will do no good. Explain that sex outside of marriage is dangerous, foolish and shortsighted, and that she is playing with dynamite.

Disrespect For Dead

Dear Ann: Recently I went to a funeral home to pay my last respects to a friend and neighbor. I was shocked to see the children of the deceased chatting nonchalantly and taking pictures with flash-bulb cameras. The oldest son had a movie camera. They took pictures of their mother beside the casket. Then they took shots of the floral offerings and candids of the people as they entered the funeral home.

The final straw was when one of the girls took a picture of her father as he lay in the casket.

I could contain myself no longer so I asked her what she was doing. She said they wanted to send pictures to relatives out of state who could not attend the funeral.

I was appalled. Tell me, please, am I being unduly critical? If so, I will change my way of thinking — WILLING TO LISTEN.

Dear Willing: Cameras and flash bulbs have no place at a funeral home. Of course it is the prerogative of the family to do as they wish, but in my opinion such goings-on are in abominable taste.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Deputies In Special Session

Brazil's Chamber Faces Big Decision On Cabinet

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — The Chamber of Deputies decides today whether to accept a predominantly nonpolitical cabinet and end the governmental crisis that prompted President Kennedy to postpone his visit to Brazil for the second time in a year.

The deputies were summoned into special session to vote on the list of ministers submitted by Prime Minister Francisco Brochado da Rocha.

Approval would give Brazil a cabinet for the first time in 17 days. Rejection would force Rocha to quit and renew the deadlock between the conservative-dominated Parliament and President Joao Goulart, whose Labor party is in the minority.

Rocha represents Goulart's third attempt in the past two weeks to form a new government to deal with Brazil's deepening economic troubles, marked in recent days by food riots which left more than a dozen persons dead.

Rocha is a member of the middle-of-the-road Social Democratic party and his nomination to the prime minister's post won overwhelming approval from the chamber last Monday. But this was not considered a guarantee he could get approval for his program or his cabinet.

In presenting his choices for cabinet posts to the chamber Thursday night, Rocha promised to put forth immediately an emergency plan to deal with the growing problems of Latin America's biggest nation. He said the program will include "short term solutions" to such problems as food shortages, spiraling inflation and agrarian and institutional reform.

The governmental crisis began late last month when Prime Minister Tancredo Neves and his cabinet resigned to become eligible under the constitution to run for re-election to Parliament.

Goulart first nominated Neves' foreign minister, Francisco San Tiago Dantes, to succeed him. But many conservative deputies considered Dantas too friendly toward Castro's Cuba and his nomination was rejected.

Goulart then named a conservative, Senate President Auro Moura de Andrade, whom the chamber approved. But Andrade quit after only 36 hours in office in a dispute with Goulart over selection of ministers for the air force and navy.

Auto Of City Man Damaged In Fire

A city man's auto was damaged by a fire in Chester Thursday afternoon and a Chester man's car was damaged when a truck backed into it at the fire scene.

A short circuit in wiring was believed to be the cause of the blaze which damaged the 1956 sedan driven by Charles Huffman, 1036 Riverview St. The blaze broke out on Carolina Ave. near 2nd St. about 2:25 p. m.

Jerry Hissam of 2nd St. quelled the blaze with fire extinguishers from a nearby garage before arrival of 13 volunteer firemen and a truck. The fire destroyed wiring and burned paint from the hood and fenders.

A 1958 truck, driven by James Paul Hart, 44, of Chester R. D. 1 backed away from the burning auto and struck a parked 1953 sedan owned by Henry L. Grace, 148 Carolina Ave., causing minor damage to the auto, Patrolman Clarence Lennens reported.

Guild Suspends Bright In Wake Of B-Girl Probe

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Guild of Variety Artists has suspended Jackie Bright without pay from his $31,200-a-year job as executive secretary until he clears himself of "all allegations and accusations" stemming from the Senate B-girl investigation.

The suspension was announced in a statement issued Thursday after a meeting of the national board of the AFL-CIO union.

At Senate Investigation subcommittee hearings in Washington last month, Bright was accused of accepting bribes and illegal payoffs from various sources in the entertainment field.

Testifying before the committee Bright denied the charges and accepted the subcommittee's invitation to submit to a lie detector test along with some witnesses who made the accusations.

Bright told the subcommittee his union had been "vilified by a conglomeration of erroneous statements and deliberate lies blown up beyond all normal proportions."

Bright is in a hospital following a heart attack, and the union's national board took this into consideration in its suspension order.

The union statement said in part: "During and because of his illness, we extend to him five weeks sick pay. Should he be completely vindicated to the satisfaction of the national board, he shall be reinstated and shall receive retroactive pay."

Hearing Awaited In Weirton Death

WEIRTON — A preliminary hearing is slated tonight at 7:30 for Rade Dopudja, 71, of Weirton, charged with murder in the death of an elderly Weirton woman Tuesday afternoon.

The report of an autopsy performed on the body of Mrs. Helen Tusin, 72, whom police said was stabbed in the arm by Dopudja, will be presented at the hearing before Squire Alphonse Sperlazza of Wellsburg.

The autopsy was ordered by Brooke County Prosecuting Atty. J. Park McCullen. It is not known if Mrs. Tusin, a neighbor of the suspect, died of the stab wound inflicted by a hunting knife or a heart attack.

Neighbors said they saw her run screaming from her home and collapse on the front porch Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Tusin lived in the Brooke County sector of Weirton. Dopudja is being held in Brooke County Jail without bond.

Probers Seek Explanation

Why Did It Take Year To Catch Up To Estes?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate probers press today for an explanation of why it took the Agriculture Department a year to crack down on Billie Sol Estes after a congressman had offered evidence of the financier's cotton manipulations.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee inquiring into Estes' affairs heard Thursday that Rep. Carl Albert, D-Okla., showed department officials in May 1961 documents concerning transfers of cotton acreage allotments from Oklahoma to Estes' lands in Texas.

Albert was disturbed and wanted something done about it, but it was not until last May—after Estes had raised his 1961 crop on the transferred allotments—that the Pecos, Tex., promoter's methods were ruled illegal and he was fined over half a million dollars.

In the interim, Wilson C. Tucker, deputy director of the department's cotton division, testified, farm aid officials searched futilely in Texas for just such evidence.

Tucker's testimony capped a hearing in which the subcommittee chairman, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., rejected the suicide verdict in the death of Henry H. Marshall, Texas production and marketing official for the Agriculture Department.

While certifying Marshall's death a suicide, Texas officials have not ruled out the possibility he was murdered.

The subcommittee produced Thursday a rifle described as identical to the one which fired five bullets into Marshall's body on June 3, 1961. After watching a staff aide's demonstration of how the bolt action .22 calibre weapon worked, McClellan declared:

"I don't think it takes many deductions to reach the irrevocable conclusion that no man committed suicide with a weapon like this . . . having to reload it four times more."

Constable Continues Probe Of Area Theft

Constable Leonard Watters of Liverpool Township is continuing investigation of the thefts of clothing and wallets of two Weirton men from a car parked at Lake Marwin Wednesday.

Watters said thieves broke a window of the car of Edward Sierzego of Weirton, taking his clothes, wallet and watch, and also the clothing and wallet of Charles Vidman of Weirton, companion of the driver, while they were swimming.

The constable said the two hoped their driver's licenses and other papers would be returned. Watters said four hubcaps and headlight rims on a car owned by Rogers Brenat of 139 Kountz Ave., Wellsville, were stolen Tuesday night.

U.S. Astronaut 'Gus' Grissom Is Columbus Visitor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Capt. Virgil I. "Gus" Grissom, one of America's Project Mercury astronauts, spent a brief time in Columbus Thursday visiting the North American Aviation Co. plant.

Grissom arrived in an Air Force T-33 jet trainer and spent several hours trying out North American's flight simulator. The equipment is capable of simulating every type of flight from low level terrain avoidance to landings on the moon. It uses a closed television circuit, a terrain model landscape and a movie screen to simulate flight conditions.

After the visit Grissom flew back to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's new manned flight center at Houston, Tex.

Guild Suspends Bright In Wake Of B-Girl Probe

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Guild of Variety Artists has suspended Jackie Bright without pay from his $31,200-a-year job as executive secretary until he clears himself of "all allegations and accusations" stemming from the Senate B-girl investigation.

The suspension was announced in a statement issued Thursday after a meeting of the national board of the AFL-CIO union.

At Senate Investigation subcommittee hearings in Washington last month, Bright was accused of accepting bribes and illegal payoffs from various sources in the entertainment field.

Testifying before the committee Bright denied the charges and accepted the subcommittee's invitation to submit to a lie detector test along with some witnesses who made the accusations.

Bright told the subcommittee his union had been "vilified by a conglomeration of erroneous statements and deliberate lies blown up beyond all normal proportions."

Bright is in a hospital following a heart attack, and the union's national board took this into consideration in its suspension order.

The union statement said in part: "During and because of his illness, we extend to him five weeks sick pay. Should he be completely vindicated to the satisfaction of the national board, he shall be reinstated and shall receive retroactive pay."

Hearing Awaited In Weirton Death

WEIRTON — A preliminary hearing is slated tonight at 7:30 for Rade Dopudja, 71, of Weirton, charged with murder in the death of an elderly Weirton woman Tuesday afternoon.

The report of an autopsy performed on the body of Mrs. Helen Tusin, 72, whom police said was stabbed in the arm by Dopudja, will be presented at the hearing before Squire Alphonse Sperlazza of Wellsburg.

The autopsy was ordered by Brooke County Prosecuting Atty. J. Park McCullen. It is not known if Mrs. Tusin, a neighbor of the suspect, died of the stab wound inflicted by a hunting knife or a heart attack.

Neighbors said they saw her run screaming from her home and collapse on the front porch Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Tusin lived in the Brooke County sector of Weirton. Dopudja is being held in Brooke County Jail without bond.

Probers Seek Explanation

Why Did It Take Year To Catch Up To Estes?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate probers press today for an explanation of why it took the Agriculture Department a year to crack down on Billie Sol Estes after a congressman had offered evidence of the financier's cotton manipulations.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee inquiring into Estes' affairs heard Thursday that Rep. Carl Albert, D-Okla., showed department officials in May 1961 documents concerning transfers of cotton acreage allotments from Oklahoma to Estes' lands in Texas.

Albert was disturbed and wanted something done about it, but it was not until last May—after Estes had raised his 1961 crop on the transferred allotments—that the Pecos, Tex., promoter's methods were ruled illegal and he was fined over half a million dollars.

In the interim, Wilson C. Tucker, deputy director of the department's cotton division, testified, farm aid officials searched futilely in Texas for just such evidence.

Tucker's testimony capped a hearing in which the subcommittee chairman, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., rejected the suicide verdict in the death of Henry H. Marshall, Texas production and marketing official for the Agriculture Department.

While certifying Marshall's death a suicide, Texas officials have not ruled out the possibility he was murdered.

The subcommittee produced Thursday a rifle described as identical to the one which fired five bullets into Marshall's body on June 3, 1961. After watching a staff aide's demonstration of how the bolt action .22 calibre weapon worked, McClellan declared:

"I don't think it takes many deductions to reach the irrevocable conclusion that no man committed suicide with a weapon like this . . . having to reload it four times more."

Constable Continues Probe Of Area Theft

Constable Leonard Watters of Liverpool Township is continuing investigation of the thefts of clothing and wallets of two Weirton men from a car parked at Lake Marwin Wednesday.

Watters said thieves broke a window of the car of Edward Sierzego of Weirton, taking his clothes, wallet and watch, and also the clothing and wallet of Charles Vidman of Weirton, companion of the driver, while they were swimming.

The constable said the two hoped their driver's licenses and other papers would be returned. Watters said four hubcaps and headlight rims on a car owned by Rogers Brenat of 139 Kountz Ave., Wellsville, were stolen Tuesday night.

U.S. Astronaut 'Gus' Grissom Is Columbus Visitor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Capt. Virgil I. "Gus" Grissom, one of America's Project Mercury astronauts, spent a brief time in Columbus Thursday visiting the North American Aviation Co. plant.

Grissom arrived in an Air Force T-33 jet trainer and spent several hours trying out North American's flight simulator. The equipment is capable of simulating every type of flight from low level terrain avoidance to landings on the moon. It uses a closed television circuit, a terrain model landscape and a movie screen to simulate flight conditions.

After the visit Grissom flew back to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's new manned flight center at Houston, Tex.

Tours Help Erase U.S. 'Fast-Gun' Image

Some people think it's a shame and waste of taxpayers' dollars to send Benny Goodman to Russia, or Dizzy Gillespie to India, or Marian Anderson to Thailand.

Hal Humphrey

But we have to send artists like this out into the world now and then to let others know that life here isn't all Eliot Ness and Matt Dillon.

In a recent speech before TV station managers, CBS president, Frank Stanton, deplored suggestions from government agencies that it might be a good idea for our TV industry to think twice when producing programs which, when exported, can damage our image abroad.

Stanton charged that obeisance to any government orders in this regard would put TV on a double standard, "to hide from the rest of the world our imperfections."

"Imperfections" don't worry our government as much as distortions.

AMERICANS aren't really relying on crime shows and westerns for all of their cultural recreation, but those seem to be the TV programs which sell the best overseas. To counter this impression others have of us, the State Department sponsors tours of entertainers who don't rely on six-guns and "how'd-ya-like-a - belt - in - the mouth?" dialogue for props.

While Benny Goodman was tooting his clarinet for the Russians, the Chad Mitchell Trio wound up a 13-week tour in 11 South and Central American countries. The 25-year-old Chad and buddies Mike Kobluk and Joe Fraser sing folk songs, some old and some their own humorous creations like "Lizzie Borden."

THEY WERE HECKLED in Maracibo, Venezuela, and cheered in Santiago, Chile. The heckling came from students and it wasn't a critique on the trio's singing, but the fact they were Norte Americanos.

"We sang at many schools and found that when Latin-American students aren't listening to music, they are talking politics," says Chad.

"That's right," adds Mike Kobluk. "After every performance it seemed the students first wanted to know if we were married, then what we thought of their country and finally they would ask why Caryl Chessman was executed."

The boys stayed away from anything political in their song repertoire. The only time they sang their "John Birch Society" number (the recording is still banned by most Los Angeles radio stations) was at an embassy party in Rio de Janeiro, where unofficially they were told not to sing it during the rest of the tour.

Chad and his trio made lots of TV appearances in South America and registered so solidly they were asked to make several 15-minute films for Latin distribution on TV.

THE IMPORTANCE of their tour frequently was brought home to Chad, Joe and Mike — especially by a young student union group from Brazil which seemed to be traveling the same route as they were.

"This bunch did sketches, most of them political, and they were well received whenever we say them," Chad reports.

The sketches were generally anti-American, but when the Chad Mitchell Trio followed this group in a city or village, it didn't seem to prevent the same audiences from being enthusiastic about Chad's folk-singing, North American or not.

South Americans are watching our TV programs (dubbed into Spanish or Portugese), but how much do they learn about us from Roy Rogers and old Charlie Chan movies?

Maybe a trio of folk-singers isn't the answer either, but at least their in-person presence proves to our Latin neighbors that our tastes don't run in only one direction and that people sing here as well as they draw six-shooters.

Just think, too, how many of us believe that all Latin Americans are either revolutionaries or cha-cha dancers.

Early Training Halts School Dropouts

The general public is growing aware of the tragedy of quitting school by so many boys and girls before finishing high school—almost a million of them a year. The rate of unemployment, even among high school graduates two or three years out of school, is about 13 per cent. Among dropouts in the same age-range, it is from 20 to 30 per cent. Two-thirds of our nation's unemployed men and women have less than a high school education. Dropouts are the last to be hired and the first to be fired. Also, every year about 175,000 girls leave school to marry.

AS YOU KNOW, reading is the basic educational skill. Yet studies from all parts of our nation reveal that the average dropout is at least two years retarded in reading ability by the time he quits school. Moreover, nine out of every ten dropouts have been held back in some grade at least a year. Dropouts fail three times as many courses as "stay-ins".

Though the average dropout tends to score lower on an IQ test than other students, not nearly all of them do so. A nation-wide study, made by the U. S. Department of Labor, showed that 70 per cent of the dropouts studied had IQ scores above 90. Also, an intensive study in the state of New York revealed that 13 per cent of dropouts had IQ scores above 110.

The majority of dropouts do come from families of the lower social - economic categories, where educational opportunities, cultural backgrounds and horizons are limited, where education is viewed with indifference or distrust, sometimes resentment.

PARENTS WHO really care that their children stay in school, at least till graduation from high school, need to plan to this end practically from the time the first child is born. They need to use their influence, even then, to provide the best possible schools for all children, to keep improving their own minds, enriching their own culture, broadening their own education, building a home library and laying the foundation for a reading family.

They need to seek the best possible ways to understand each child, discipline him reasonably well and win his esteem and cooperation.

As soon as he can grunt or gesture a question, they will answer him or find the answer. They will explain things to him as soon as he will listen for a few moments at a stretch; they will begin to read to him and keep on reading to him for years and years and later with him.

HIS PARENTS will ever seek to find ways at home to help him, on entering school, to learn to read, to read better and to continue enjoying success at all school learning.

He will grow up in a home where no one will ever doubt that he will keep on going to school till he graduates from high school, or even for many years beyond.

My bulletins, "Home Helps in Reading, Spelling and Arithmetic" and "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Weirton Gets 1st Canadian Ore In Shipment By Rail

The Weirton Steel Co. has received the first shipment of iron ore concentrate to reach the United States from the Carol Lake project of the Iron Ore Co. of Canada.

There were 196 railroad cars in the ore train reaching Weirton area. Approximately 48 contained the Carol Lake concentrate. The material was part of a 20,000-ton shipment that arrived at Cleveland aboard the S.S. A. T. Wood after a trip down the St. Lawrence Seaway from Seven Islands on the north shore of the St. Lawrence River.

National Steel Corp. is one of six U. S. steel and mining companies in the Iron Ore Co. of Canada. Thomas E. Millsop, chairman of National Steel, and George M. Humphrey, chairman of the Executive Committee of National Steel, were among the leaders in opening the iron ore fields in Labrador-Quebec. Humphrey was the first President of Iron Ore Company of Canada.

"When the concentrate from the Carol Lake project reached the Weirton mills, it was the result of 10 years of exploration, research and decision and three years of concentration and teamwork," Millsop said.

AMERICANS aren't really relying on crime shows and westerns for all of their cultural recreation, but those seem to be the TV programs which sell the best overseas. To counter this impression others have of us, the State Department sponsors tours of entertainers who don't rely on six-guns and "how'd-ya-like-a-belt-in-the mouth?" dialogue for props.

While Benny Goodman was tooting his clarinet for the Russians, the Chad Mitchell Trio wound up a 13-week tour in 11 South and Central American countries. The 25-year-old Chad and buddies Mike Kobluk and Joe Fraser sing folk songs, some old and some their own humorous creations like "Lizzie Borden."

THEY WERE HECKLED in Maracibo, Venezuela, and cheered in Santiago, Chile. The heckling came from students and it wasn't a critique on the trio's singing, but the fact they were Norte Americanos.

"We sang at many schools and found that when Latin-American students aren't listening to music, they are talking politics," says Chad.

"That's right," adds Mike Kobluk. "After every performance it seemed the students first wanted to know if we were married, then what we thought of their country and finally they would ask why Caryl Chessman was executed."

The boys stayed away from anything political in their song repertoire. The only time they sang their "John Birch Society" number (the recording is still banned by most Los Angeles radio stations) was at an embassy party in Rio de Janeiro, where unofficially they were told not to sing it during the rest of the tour.

Chad and his trio made lots of TV appearances in South America and registered so solidly they were asked to make several 15-minute films for Latin distribution on TV.

THE IMPORTANCE of their tour frequently was brought home to Chad, Joe and Mike — especially by a young student union group from Brazil which seemed to be traveling the same route as they were.

"This bunch did sketches, most of them political, and they were well received whenever we say them," Chad reports.

The sketches were generally anti-American, but when the Chad Mitchell Trio followed this group in a city or village, it didn't seem to prevent the same audiences from being enthusiastic about Chad's folk-singing, North American or not.

South Americans are watching our TV programs (dubbed into Spanish or Portugese), but how much do they learn about us from Roy Rogers and old Charlie Chan movies?

Maybe a trio of folk-singers isn't the answer either, but at least their in-person presence proves to our Latin neighbors that our tastes don't run in only one direction and that people sing here as well as they draw six-shooters.

Just think, too, how many of us believe that all Latin Americans are either revolutionaries or cha-cha dancers.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Early Training Halts School Dropouts

The general public is growing aware of the tragedy of quitting school by so many boys and girls before finishing high school—almost a million of them a year. The rate of unemployment, even among high school graduates two or three years out of school, is about 13 per cent. Among dropouts in the same age-range, it is from 20 to 30 per cent. Two-thirds of our nation's unemployed men and women have less than a high school education. Dropouts are the last to be hired and the first to be fired. Also, every year about 175,000 girls leave school to marry.

AS YOU KNOW, reading is the basic educational skill. Yet studies from all parts of our nation reveal that the average dropout is at least two years retarded in reading ability by the time he quits school. Moreover, nine out of every ten dropouts have been held back in some grade at least a year. Dropouts fail three times as many courses as "stay-ins".

Though the average dropout tends to score lower on an IQ test than other students, not nearly all of them do so. A nationwide study, made by the U. S. Department of Labor, showed that 70 per cent of the dropouts studied had IQ scores above 90. Also, an intensive study in the state of New York revealed that 13 per cent of dropouts had IQ scores above 110.

The majority of dropouts do come from families of the lower social-economic categories, where educational opportunities, cultural backgrounds and horizons are limited, where education is viewed with indifference or distrust, sometimes resentment.

PARENTS WHO really care that their children stay in school, at least till graduation from high school, need to plan to this end practically from the time the first child is born. They need to use their influence, even then, to provide the best possible schools for all children, to keep improving their own minds, enriching their own culture, broadening their own education, building a home library and laying the foundation for a reading family.

They need to seek the best possible ways to understand each child, discipline him reasonably well and win his esteem and cooperation.

As soon as he can grunt or gesture a question, they will answer him or find the answer. They will explain things to him as soon as he will listen for a few moments at a stretch; they will begin to read to him and keep on reading to him for years and years and later with him.

HIS PARENTS will ever seek to find ways at home to help him, on entering school, to learn to read, to read better and to continue enjoying success at all school learning.

He will grow up in a home where no one will ever doubt that he will keep on going to school till he graduates from high school, or even for many years beyond.

My bulletins, "Home Helps in Reading, Spelling and Arithmetic" and "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Weirton Gets 1st Canadian Ore In Shipment By Rail

The Weirton Steel Co. has received the first shipment of iron ore concentrate to reach the United States from the Carol Lake project of the Iron Ore Co. of Canada.

There were 196 railroad cars in the ore train reaching Weirton area. Approximately 48 contained the Carol Lake concentrate. The material was part of a 20,000-ton shipment that arrived at Cleveland aboard the S.S. A. T. Wood after a trip down the St. Lawrence Seaway from Seven Islands on the north shore of the St. Lawrence River.

National Steel Corp. is one of six U. S. steel and mining companies in the Iron Ore Co. of Canada. Thomas E. Millsop, chairman of National Steel, and George M. Humphrey, chairman of the Executive Committee of National Steel, were among the leaders in opening the iron ore fields in Labrador-Quebec. Humphrey was the first President of Iron Ore Company of Canada.

"When the concentrate from the Carol Lake project reached the Weirton mills, it was the result of 10 years of exploration, research and decision and three years of concentration and teamwork," Millsop said.

Surgery Patients Need Not Gain Weight

There is a widespread notion that eating more than your share of nourishing food will help you to get well faster after surgery. But, greedy as the dehydrated tissues are for fluid, the body's need for food is actually cut down during the convalescent period.

Ida Jean Kain

Protein—yes. It helps speed the repair processes. But snacks — no. They help to while away idle hours but also help to pack on extra pounds.

Due to enforced limited activity immediately following surgery, the body's caloric requirements drops to about 12½ calories per pound in a 24-hour period. Compare this to the 16 calories per pound needed to maintain weight in normal activity and you can see how a few eggnogs, creamy milkshakes and gifts of candy can add a pound or two every week.

IT'S EASY TO understand a post - operative weight gain. But instead of taking the attitude that this is inevitable, be on guard to forestall it. The one thing you don't want to have to cope with is unnecessary pounds! A little forethought as you are convalescing will pay beautiful dividends in the years ahead.

What about a weight gain following a hysterectomy? Is this a foregone conclusion? Some women do continue to gain but thousands of women do not gain.

An authority in this field expressed it this way: "This operation usually occurs at a time of life when the energetic demands of raising a family are lessened. There's more leisure for social activities which are always conducive to overeating. At the same time calorie requirement is tapering off."

But if this warning comes too late for you, all is not lost. Take hope from this letter:

"After a major operation, the pounds crept on. When I started following your protective diet combined with exercise I wore a size 20. Now, almost two years later and 50 pounds lighter, I easily fit into a size 14 dress.

"The important point I want to bring out is not the fact that I was successful in reducing and restoring my confidence, but the manner in which I exercised to bring about this change. Due to my operation, I could not do the difficult straining type of calisthenics often called for, but I was determined to find some way.

Here are the two exercises I used:

"For the hips — sit on the floor, lean slightly back, with legs stretched out, held together. In a rocking motion, roll from side to side as far as possible — 50 counts. (I lost 4 inches this way.)

"FOR WAIST and hips — lie outstretched on floor, arms out at shoulder level. Raise right leg and swing it across left, touching floor with toe. Swing back and touch on right side. Repeat 10 times with each leg.

"This routine takes only about 5 minutes and is just enough to be effective and yet not too much to be tiring. My favorite time is right after the children leave for school.

"Besides doing my figure a world of good, the exercise was helpful in stimulating circulation and making me feel peppier and ready to meet the day's challenge."

UC Rejects Bid Of 3 Cities In Gas Rate Dispute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Utilities Commission has rejected a bid by three Northeastern Ohio cities — Cleveland, Canton and Massilon—to have the commission dismiss an application by the East Ohio Gas Co. for random sampling of the company's pipelines.

The three cities are among those fighting a proposed $33.9 million rate increase sought by East Ohio.

The motion for the dismissal was made by Cleveland Law Director Ralph Locher. It came at the end of day-long testimony by Dr. W. Edward Deming, statistical expert from Washington, D.C., who devised the sampling method East Ohio proposes to use.

The company would use the data to figure property depreciation in connection with its requests for higher rates that would affect customers in 108 Northeastern Ohio communities.

Drop Of 80 Per Cent Shown For Sales Tax

Collection of prepaid sales tax receipts and advance payments for the first week of the new fiscal year dropped 80 per cent from the corresponding period a year ago, State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson reported today at Columbus.

Receipts for the week ending July 7 totaled $4,607, against $23,528, Ferguson said.

Collections on the sales of motor vehicles totaled $10,725 last week, Ferguson said. However, figures for the same period in 1961 are not complete, the report showed. A change in the state's collection system apparently accounted for most of the apparent drop. Previously, taxes were prepaid.

Capt. Pyle Talks For Kiwanis On Traffic Controls

The need for larger traffic signs and additional traffic control devices in East Liverpool was listed by Police Captain Robert Pyle Thursday in a talk before the Kiwanis Club.

Speaking on the present national movement to bring uniformity in state and municipal traffic regulations and control, Capt. Pyle said more standardized signs, laws and enforcement practices would provide for safer driving and better flow of traffic.

The officer said many cities have been handicapped by heavy flow of traffic, declaring there are 10,000 autos registered in East Liverpool, through which a heavy volume of cars and trucks passes. Standardized traffic lights, direction signs, speed limits and other driving regulations would provide clearer understanding of vehicle operations and mean safer and easier driving, he went on.

Questioned about some aspects of East Liverpool traffic, Capt. Pyle said there is a need for improved traffic signals.

Capt. Pyle, who spoke in place of Chief Americo Radeschi, was introduced by Glenn Hall. Paul Blair, president, was in charge.

Car Windows Closed And The Play Goes On

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A sudden downpour recently had playgoers at nearby Trotwood Circle Theater fidgeting in their seats, worried about their open car windows outside.

The noise of the rain drumming on the playhouse barn roof and the uneasiness of the crowd became such that the play was stopped.

Director Charles Vicinus appeared on the stage. He was soaking wet but he announced, "All car windows have been closed."

Kapp Hired At Willard . . .

Jim Kapp, winner of the 1957 Bill Booth Award and star guard for East Liverpool High under Coach Lou Venditti, has been hired as an assistant line coach at Willard High School in Huron County.

The ex-Potter, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Kapp, 223 W. 2nd St., was selected from among 25 candidates for the job at the Class AA school north of Mansfield.

Jim reports Willard is centered in an area of strong football teams and opponents will include Shelby, Norwalk and Galion. Willard has an enrollment of 650. Kapp will teach history in his first job after graduating from Wooster College in June.

Jim got in two good seasons of football at Wooster before being sidelined by an injured knee. He also was on the wrestling team for three years. Don Sanders, formerly of Shadyside, is head grid coach at Willard.

Ironmen Interested In Ivan . . .

THE WHEELING Ironmen may land another area quarterback to go with East Liverpool's Jim Potts for their first season in the United Football League.

The club is hopeful of signing Midland's Ivan Toncic, the former quarterback of Pitt's Panthers.

Toncic already has expressed interest in the Ironmen and the Wheeling club will be out to obtain negotiating rights at the league's mid-summer meeting this weekend in Columbus.

Toncic performed with the now defunct Akron Pros in the UFL last summer. Potts, ex-Bowling Green University star, signed earlier as did quarterback Chuck Goosman of West Virginia Tech. The Ironmen are still interested in East Liverpool's George Hall, All-Ohio halfback, and also New Cumberland's Jack Thayer.

Thayer attended Paul Brown's quarterback school this week at Hiram College. The Ironmen open Aug. 18 against the Cleveland Bulldogs at Bellaire.

Big Decision For Wilt . . .

AFTER THUMBING through about 35 scholarship offers from schools as far away as Montana, Stanton Local's Don (The Stilt) Spires is still undecided on where he will seek his higher education and of course, more basketball.

But the 6-6 Irondale center has narrowed the field to three—Ohio University, Niagara and New York University — and may reach a decision by the end of the week. Don is presently selling refreshments at Forbes Field.

Steelers To Visit Weirton . . .

THE PITTSBURGH Steelers will hold their annual day at camp Aug. 4 at the Weirton High School gridiron, featuring a scrimmage at 2 between the offensive team and the defensive team.

Wright And Romack Lead Milwaukee Open

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Mickey Wright and Barbara Romack, a pair of winsome blondes who add glamour to the pro golf trail, held a two-stroke lead today, entering the second round of the $10,000 Milwaukee women's Open.

Miss Wright, who is well on her way to leading the Ladies' PGA money-winners a second straight year, and Miss Romack mastered the Tuckaway Country Club's tricky green and narrow fairways for par 70s Thursday in the opening of the 72-hole test.

None of the other 48 entrants managed to match regulation figures for the 6,135-yard layout.

LA, Giants Post Wins In Tight Race

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

While the Los Angeles Dodgers and San Francisco Giants duel for National League supremacy, there's another tight little battle for the batting lead—where three belters named Hank Aaron, Frank Robinson and Roberto Clemente are providing a stiff challenge to the Dodgers' Tommy Davis.

Davis managed only a single Thursday night, but drove in his 91st run of the season as the Dodgers beat the last-place New York Mets for the 10th time in 11 games 3-0, getting a combined three-hitter from Sandy Koufax and Larry Sherry.

Meanwhile, Aaron climaxed a four-hit night with a ninth-inning, bases-loaded homer that gave Milwaukee an 8-6 victory over St. Louis; Robinson had three hits and batted in three runs, including the clincher, in Cincinnati's 8-4 decision over Chicago; and Clemente helped Pittsburgh trim Houston 6-4 with three hits.

The heroics left Davis with a .353 average while Clemente climbed to .348, Robinson to .344 and Aaron to .336.

In the NL's other game, Willie Mays—muddling along these days at the .308 mark—collected three singles and flashed some fancy stuff on the bases in leading the Giants over Philadelphia 5-3. The victory kept San Francisco right at the Dodgers' heels — a half game behind.

Dodger southpaw Sandy Koufax, bothered by a sore pitching hand but able to go seven strong innings, won his 14th against four losses in his first meeting with the Mets since he no-hit them June 30. The clever southpaw allowed three hits and struck out six before giving way to Larry Sherry, who held the Mets hitless the last two innings.

The Giants built up a 5-0 lead behind Jack Sanford but the right-hander weakened after holding the Phils to four hits through six innings and needed relief from Stu Miller in the late going. Mays singled across the first run in the opening inning against loser Jack Hamilton and scored the clincher in the fifth with some of his devil-may-care base running.

Hank Aaron rapped his grand slam off Cardinal relief star Lindy McDaniel, who had not given up an earned run in 15 appearances dating back to May 31. Hank's kid brother Tommy ignited the Brave rally in the ninth with a pinch homer against Larry Jackson.

The Pirates, holding third place 4½ games behind the Dodgers, played long ball in winning against Houston. Dick Stuart homered with Bob Skinner aboard in the first, Smoky Burgess connected after a walk to Stuart and a single by Clemente in the third, and Skinner homered with the bases empty in the sixth.

Al McBean went all the way for the Pirates. Houston starter Jim Golden was the loser.

The Reds exploded with a vengeance in their ninth inning-rally that routed the Cubs, pouring across four runs on Don Blasingame's triple, a double by Robinson, Vada Pinson's single and Leo Cardenas' triple which came after an intentional walk to John Edwards. Robinson, on a 14-game hitting streak, has banged out 12 hits in his last 17 at bats, with 11 runs batted in and 11 scored.

Polo Match Slated

The Beaver Valley polo team will meet Mahoning Valley Saturday night at 7:30 at the Darlington field. Beaver Valley's record is 5-1 and the squad is working towards a spot in the Eastern Division playoff of the Mid-States League in September.

ALLEN SAFE AT THIRD. In the sixth inning of the night game between the Senators and the Twins at St. Paul-Minneapolis Thursday, Minnesota second baseman Bernie Allen is safe at third on a single to right by first sacker Vic Power. The throw from rightfielder Jim King was not in time to allow third baseman Ed Brinkman to make the tag. (UPI Telephoto)

Golden Star Wins By 4-1

Pitchers for both sides worked standout games as Golden Star Dairy gained a 4-1 triumph over Woodbine Laundry in Pony League action Thursday at Dopler Field.

The Dairymen moved into second place in the loop behind Bright's and Burbick's, who are tied for first.

After four scoreless innings, Golden Star and Woodbine each plated solo runs in the fifth to deadlock the score. The Dairymen punched across three in the sixth to win.

Len Walker went all the way for Golden Star, yielding only seven hits. Nick Marchbanks, who toiled for Woodbine, gave up eight hits in seven full innings.

Gamble led Golden Star at the plate with three hits in four trips, while Dalissio had a pair.

Danny Smith of Woodbine smashed a triple and single, while Brewer also had two hits.

Yankees, Twins Suffer Setbacks

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chuck Essegian, Cleveland's early season power popper, has slipped his slump.

The 30-year-old outfielder, whose batting average dropped 101 points since he reached his peak May 26, was tapped for pinch-hitting duty Thursday night and responded with a three-run homer that powered the Indians to a 6-4 triumph over Baltimore.

It was only the second homer and seventh run batted in for Essegian since he hit six homers in six games, boosted his average to .384 and seemed finally to have found his spot at Cleveland after spending eight years with 19 different clubs in organized baseball.

Relegated to occasional appearances by his woeful slump, Essegian came up against the Orioles after Willie Tasby had stroked a two-run pinch single, tying it 3-3 in the ninth. Essegian then hit home run No. 14.

The victory moved the second-place Indians within .004 points of the American League-leading New York Yankees, beaten by third-place Los Angeles 5-4 as Felix Torres drove in four runs for the Angels.

Elsewhere, Washington outhomered Minnesota 7-4 in 10 innings, Chicago White Sox lefthander Juan Pizarro fired a two-hitter that beat Detroit 3-2 and Kansas City and Boston split a doubleheader. The Athletics won the opener 5-4, the Red Sox took the nightcap 9-4 in 11 innings.

Torres' first inning triple with the bases loaded and a single by Lee Thomas sent the Angels into a 4-0 lead against the Yankees. Torres' sacrifice fly in the third inning drove in Leon Wagner with the deciding run. Wagner had doubled—the only Los Angeles hit off loser Whitey Ford (7-5) and Jim Coates after the first inning. The Yanks pushed across four runs in the seventh before Dean Chance got Roger Maris on a pop out to end it and preserve the victory for Ted Bowsfield (5-3).

Jim King's second homer, a two-run shot that snapped a 4-4 tie in the 10th, followed by Harry Bright's solo homer, ended the Senators' seven-game losing streak and extended the fourth-place Twins' skid to five games. Chuck Cottier also homered for Washington while Harmon Killebrew (No. 19), Bob Allison and Earl Battey connected for Minnesota. Dave Stenhouse (7-4) was the winner with a seven-hit effort. Ray Moore (4-3) lost it.

Pizarro (8-7) struck out seven while posting his fourth consecutive triumph. He had difficulty only with Steve Boros, who doubled and scored the first Tiger run, then doubled to drive in the other. The White Sox got their first run on Luis Aparicio's triple and a grounder by Camilo Carreon, scored their second on Joe Cunningham's homer and beat Don Mossi (7-10) in the eighth when Jim Landis doubled and Nellie Fox singled.

The Red Sox tied the opener 4-4 in the top of the ninth on Pete Runnels' three-run homer. But the A's came back to win it for John Wyatt (6-6) in the bottom half on a double by Ed Charles, a walk and a pinch-hit single by George Alusik. That made Mike Fornieles (2-4) the loser. The Red Sox broke the nightcap open in the 11th on two walks, a single by Runnels, Lu Clinton's triple and Bob Tillman's homer off Gordon Jones (3-2). Clinton also hit two homers in the game won by Dick Radatz (3-4).

Gamble led Golden Star at the plate with three hits in four trips, while Dalissio had a pair.

Yankees, Twins Suffer Setbacks

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chuck Essegian, Cleveland's early season power popper, has slipped his slump.

The 30-year-old outfielder, whose batting average dropped 101 points since he reached his peak May 26, was tapped for pinch-hitting duty Thursday night and responded with a three-run homer that powered the Indians to a 6-4 triumph over Baltimore.

It was only the second homer and seventh run batted in for Essegian since he hit six homers in six games, boosted his average to .384 and seemed finally to have found his spot at Cleveland after spending eight years with 19 different clubs in organized baseball.

Relegated to occasional appearances by his woeful slump, Essegian came up against the Orioles after Willie Tasby had stroked a two-run pinch single, tying it 3-3 in the ninth. Essegian then hit home run No. 14.

The victory moved the second-place Indians within .004 points of the American League-leading New York Yankees, beaten by third-place Los Angeles 5-4 as Felix Torres drove in four runs for the Angels.

Elsewhere, Washington outhomered Minnesota 7-4 in 10 innings, Chicago White Sox lefthander Juan Pizarro fired a two-hitter that beat Detroit 3-2 and Kansas City and Boston split a doubleheader. The Athletics won the opener 5-4, the Red Sox took the nightcap 9-4 in 11 innings.

Torres' first inning triple with the bases loaded and a single by Lee Thomas sent the Angels into a 4-0 lead against the Yankees. Torres' sacrifice fly in the third inning drove in Leon Wagner with the deciding run. Wagner had doubled—the only Los Angeles hit off loser Whitey Ford (7-5) and Jim Coates after the first inning. The Yanks pushed across four runs in the seventh before Dean Chance got Roger Maris on a pop out to end it and preserve the victory for Ted Bowsfield (5-3).

Jim King's second homer, a two-run shot that snapped a 4-4 tie in the 10th, followed by Harry Bright's solo homer, ended the Senators' seven-game losing streak and extended the fourth-place Twins' skid to five games. Chuck Cottier also homered for Washington while Harmon Killebrew (No. 19), Bob Allison and Earl Battey connected for Minnesota. Dave Stenhouse (7-4) was the winner with a seven-hit effort. Ray Moore (4-3) lost it.

Pizarro (8-7) struck out seven while posting his fourth consecutive triumph. He had difficulty only with Steve Boros, who doubled and scored the first Tiger run, then doubled to drive in the other. The White Sox got their first run on Luis Aparicio's triple and a grounder by Camilo Carreon, scored their second on Joe Cunningham's homer and beat Don Mossi (7-10) in the eighth when Jim Landis doubled and Nellie Fox singled.

The Red Sox tied the opener 4-4 in the top of the ninth on Pete Runnels' three-run homer. But the A's came back to win it for John Wyatt (6-6) in the bottom half on a double by Ed Charles, a walk and a pinch-hit single by George Alusik. That made Mike Fornieles (2-4) the loser. The Red Sox broke the nightcap open in the 11th on two walks, a single by Runnels, Lu Clinton's triple and Bob Tillman's homer off Gordon Jones (3-2). Clinton also hit two homers in the game won by Dick Radatz (3-4).

Palmer's 140 Leads By 2 In British Open Tourney

BULLETIN

TROON, Scotland (AP)—Arnold Palmer smashed all records for the Old Troon course today with a five-under-par 35-32—67 and shot into a five-stroke lead over Australia's Kel Nagle in the battle for the British Open Golf Championship. Palmer had a 54-hole score of 207 and Nagle, shooting a two-under-par 70, in their head-to-head duel, followed at 212.

TROON, Scotland (AP)—Arnold Palmer, sporting a two-stroke lead, charged into the final 36 holes of the British Open Golf Championship today as a prohibitive favorite to win his second straight title.

Palmer, after a record-equalling 69 Thursday stood at 140. Only Kel Nagle, of Australia, was within striking distance at 142.

This was how the 1962 British Open shook down after 350 entries teed off Monday, got reduced to 120 after the qualifying round, and then got further knocked back to only 39 players today.

Of those 39, Palmer had to fear Nagle, perhaps another American, Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif., who stood at 145. Otherwise he was in sound shape to retain a title that means only $1,400 in money but carries with it tremendous prestige.

Palmer was bracketed with Nagle, which meant they would be battling stroke for stroke in morning and afternoon rounds.

The day's firing produced middle 70 scores, largely. The rule of the low 50 scores produced a cutoff point of 152. That knocked out Gene Littler, San Diego, Calif., and Gary Player, South Africa. Each had 153.

Of the eight Americans who qualified, only five made it to the finals.

In addition to Palmer and Rodgers, there were Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., veteran who put together 76-73—149. A surprise came from Don Essig, former National Public Links champion from Indianapolis, who shot 76-72—148. Jack Nicklaus just crept in after a shocking first round 80 with an even-par 72 for 152.

Squeezed out were Littler, Paul Runyan the oldster from La Jolla, Calif., who had 79-77—156, and Jack Isaacs, of Langley Air Force Base, Va., who had 76-78—154.

Griffith Favored To Retain Title Against Dupas Tonight

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Hard hitting Emile Griffith of New York remained the favorite to retain his world welterweight championship tonight against elusive Ralph Dupas of New Orleans.

The 15-round match, which will not be carried by radio nor television in this country, will be fought in the Las Vegas Convention Center.

Griffith, 23-year-old native of the Virgin Islands, was listed at 2-5 in the betting odds to turn back the challenge of his 26-year-old opponent. Dupas is ranked as the No. 1 contender.

Emile regained the championship last March 24 in New York when he knocked out Benny (Kid) Paret in the 12th round. Ten days later the Cuban kid died.

In contrast to previous title matches here, chairman James Deskins of the Nevada State Athletic Commission said the mandatory eight-count and three knockdown rules will be in effect.

This means a fighter floored must be given at least eight counts and if a fighter is dropped three times in a single round the match will be stopped.

Deadline Set Sunday For Tennis Tourney

Deadline for registering for the third annual Junior Tennis Tournament sponsored by the Lions Club July 20-22 is Sunday at 6 p. m. Laurin Stacey, chairman, reminded today.

Registration may be made by players 18 and younger at the Thompson Park Pool office or with members. The tournament will be held at the park courts.

Lawyers Nip Foe In Rally To Lead Loop

Rallying for five runs in the seventh inning, the Lawyers gained a 6-4 victory over Central Service to vault into first place in the Colt League in Thursday's action.

John Hasentab, batting in the clean-up spot for the Lawyers, rapped out three hits in four trips and drove in two runs in the seventh inning to spark the victory.

The Lawyers were behind, 3-1, going into the seventh frame when they suddenly came alive and jumped on Dave Chetwynd for enough runs to forge ahead.

Chetwynd gave way to Bowersock in the final inning, and was tagged with the loss. He yielded seven hits, while Bowersock allowed one.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Sixteen oddly assorted shotmakers ranging in age from 17 to 49 went into the third round of match play today in the 56th Ohio Amateur Golf Championship at the Dayton Country Club.

Survivors of Thursday's two opening rounds of man - to - man combat includes six salesmen, handling such things as gears, insurance, steel and wire, do-it-yourself lumber, and paper bags; a highway department employe, a newspaper publisher, four students, a physician, a claims adjustor, an adding machine company employe and a tool maker.

They represent 10 cities with Columbus having four entrants, Cincinnati, Cleveland and Dayton two and Warren, Elyria, Bedford, Akron, Athens and Hubbard one each.

Still on hand after a series of opening upsets were defending champion Walter Stahl Jr. of Cleveland; Tom Weiskopf, the state intercollegiate and Public Links champion from Bedford; Tony Blom of Cincinnati, the 1959 winner; Bob Littler Jr. of Athens, the state Junior king, and Alex Antonio Jr. of Hubbard, the state high school champion and winner of the 1961 Junior title.

Belted out of the running in Thursday's opening rounds were such luminaries as medalist Dan Carmichael of Columbus, the 1960 champion; Columbus district champion Fritz Schmidt; former Big Ten champion Don Albert of Columbus; 1947 amateur champion Ed Preisler of Cleveland; Dr. Harry Duccilli of Cincinnati, the 1959 runnerup, and Bob Seyler of Mansfield, last year's medalist.

Of the seven public links qualifiers only Joe Campana, 46, a highway worker from Warren, survived the opening firing.

Carmichael, pre-tourney favorite to take the title, was ousted in 19 holes by Eugene Riccardi of Columbus, who dropped his second round clash to John Tullio of Cleveland.

Today's pair of matches will cut the field to four, clearing the way for Saturday's 36-hole semi-finals. Sunday's championship match also will be over the 36-hole route.

Bob Putt Eliminated In Sudden Death Play

Bob Putt, East Liverpool High's golfing star, failed to qualify for match play in the Ohio Amateur tournament Thursday at Dayton. In a "sudden death" playoff for a match play berth, he was eliminated on the third hole. The name of his opponent could not be learned.

Marion Heck of Columbiana and Bill Harding of Salem were eliminated in match play.

The 15-round match, which will not be carried by radio nor television in this country, will be fought in the Las Vegas Convention Center.

Griffith, 23-year-old native of the Virgin Islands, was listed at 2-5 in the betting odds to turn back the challenge of his 26-year-old opponent. Dupas is ranked as the No. 1 contender.

Emile regained the championship last March 24 in New York when he knocked out Benny (Kid) Paret in the 12th round. Ten days later the Cuban kid died.

In contrast to previous title matches here, chairman James Deskins of the Nevada State Athletic Commission said the mandatory eight-count and three knockdown rules will be in effect.

This means a fighter floored must be given at least eight counts and if a fighter is dropped three times in a single round the match will be stopped.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Sixteen oddly assorted shotmakers ranging in age from 17 to 49 went into the third round of match play today in the 56th Ohio Amateur Golf Championship at the Dayton Country Club.

Survivors of Thursday's two opening rounds of man - to - man combat includes six salesmen, handling such things as gears, insurance, steel and wire, do-it-yourself lumber, and paper bags; a highway department employe, a newspaper publisher, four students, a physician, a claims adjustor, an adding machine company employe and a tool maker.

They represent 10 cities with Columbus having four entrants, Cincinnati, Cleveland and Dayton two and Warren, Elyria, Bedford, Akron, Athens and Hubbard one each.

Still on hand after a series of opening upsets were defending champion Walter Stahl Jr. of Cleveland; Tom Weiskopf, the state intercollegiate and Public Links champion from Bedford; Tony Blom of Cincinnati, the 1959 winner; Bob Littler Jr. of Athens, the state Junior king, and Alex Antonio Jr. of Hubbard, the state high school champion and winner of the 1961 Junior title.

Belted out of the running in Thursday's opening rounds were such luminaries as medalist Dan Carmichael of Columbus, the 1960 champion; Columbus district champion Fritz Schmidt; former Big Ten champion Don Albert of Columbus; 1947 amateur champion Ed Preisler of Cleveland; Dr. Harry Duccilli of Cincinnati, the 1959 runnerup, and Bob Seyler of Mansfield, last year's medalist.

Of the seven public links qualifiers only Joe Campana, 46, a highway worker from Warren, survived the opening firing.

Carmichael, pre-tourney favorite to take the title, was ousted in 19 holes by Eugene Riccardi of Columbus, who dropped his second round clash to John Tullio of Cleveland.

Today's pair of matches will cut the field to four, clearing the way for Saturday's 36-hole semifinals. Sunday's championship match also will be over the 36-hole route.

Bob Putt Eliminated In Sudden Death Play

Bob Putt, East Liverpool High's golfing star, failed to qualify for match play in the Ohio Amateur tournament Thursday at Dayton. In a "sudden death" playoff for a match play berth, he was eliminated on the third hole. The name of his opponent could not be learned.

Marion Heck of Columbiana and Bill Harding of Salem were eliminated in match play.

U.S., Canadian Net Stars Clash In Zone Cup Opener

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The American Zone Davis Cup competition opens here today with Chuck McKinley, ace of the United States team, playing Francois Godbout, 24, Canada's best, in the first singles match.

In the second match, Jon Douglas, 25, of Santa Monica, Calif., takes on Don Fontana, 31, captain of the Canadian team and a veteran of six Davis Cup campaigns.

Selection of Douglas, a former Stanford quarterback, came as a surprise Thursday. Frank Froehling, 19, of Coral Gables, Fla., had been expected to play in the second singles on the basis of his fine record the past few months, but he has been bothered by a sore throat since his arrival from the Wimbledon tournament in England.

The teams for Saturday's doubles were to be named today, but Fontana and U.S. Capt. Bob Kelleher indicated it will be Godbout and Fontana against McKinley and Dennis Ralston, 20, of Bakersfield, Calif.

In the singles Sunday McKinley will be matched against Fontana in the opener, and Douglas will play Godbout.

Play starts at 2 p.m., EDT each day.

The U.S. team is heavily favored to win the best-of-five matches here and go on to Mexico City to play Mexico in the American Zone finals Aug. 4-6. The U.S. beat Mexico in the zone finals here last year.

Semifinals Set In Women's Golf At South Bend

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Mrs. Ann Casey Johnstone, 42, and three talented youngsters moved into semifinals of the 62nd Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament today at South Bend Country Club.

Mrs. Johnstone, the only former winner in the field, was playing her usual canny game and having good results with a croquet mallet-type putter, but the gallery was getting most of its kicks from her opponent today, Carol Sorenson, 19, of Janesville, Wis., and Clifford Ann Creed, 23.

Miss Creed, best amateur in seven tourneys this year, was matched with Barbara Fay White, 24. They are old Louisiana rivals, Clifford Ann from Alexandria and Barbara Fay from Shreveport.

Miss Sorenson took an 8 and 6 victory Thursday over Doris Phillips, former Southern Illinois champion from St. Louis.

Miss Creed was two under par in a 4 and 3 victory over Mrs. Paul Dye Jr. of Indianapolis, former Indiana champion. Julie Hull of Anderson, present Indiana champ, couldn't hold a one-hole advantage at the turn and yielded to Mrs. Johnstone 2 and 1.

Miss White, a Texas Christian student, defeated Mrs. Michael J. Skala of Roseburg, Ore., former National Junior champion, 2 and 1.

Koufax Pitches Victory Despite Pains In Hand

NEW YORK (AP)—Sandy Koufax set the New York Mets down for seven innings Thursday night with the index finger of his pitching hand as numb as the Mets' bats.

Koufax, sensational southpaw of the Los Angeles Dodgers pitched with his left hand painfully swollen and the upper half of his left index finger badly discolored and almost entirely numb.

He had yielded only three hits when he left after the seventh, Larry Sherry finished the 3-0 victory.

"The hand hurt me all through the game," Koufax said. "And then I developed a blood blister on the index finger so we decided not to take any chances.

"However, I don't expect to miss any turns. The doctors have told me the only thing I can do for the condition is to rest, and I can't do that."

Browns, Rams Swing Five-Player Trade

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns obtained insurance at quarterback and offensive halfback in a five-player trade Thursday with the Los Angeles Rams.

Veteran quarterback Frank Ryan and halfback Tom Wilson will be coming to the Browns in exchange for Larry Stephens, a defensive tackle, and two undisclosed draft choices.

Ryan is slated as the Browns' No. 2 quarterback to spell Jim Ninowski.

Acquisition of Wilson removes some of the pressure from Ernie Davis, the All-America from Syracuse, who is at the College All-Star camp and may need time to get acclimated when he joins the Browns in training at Hiram next month.

2 Canton Women Battle For Ohio Amateur Crown

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two Canton women battle for the Ohio Women's Amateur Golf Championship in a 36-hole grind at the Kirtland Country Club today.

Mrs. Betty Kerby Peppard, who won the title in 1958 and 1959, and Mrs. John Whitacre, a long-ball hitter, advanced to the finals with victories over two teen-agers in the 18-hole semifinal round over the par 75 course Thursday.

Mrs. Peppard eliminated Joan Gavigan, 18, of Troy, 1-up, and Mrs. Whitacre ousted 19-year-old defending champion Judy Rand of Aurora, 1-up in 19 holes.

Mrs. Whitacre was two down after 16 holes, but won the 17th and 18th with pars and got a birdie on the 19th to close out the match.

A short drive had Mrs. Peppard, who had a one-hole edge, in trouble on the 18th, but she made a comeback with a wood shot that put her on the green in three and she matched Miss Gavigan's par five.

Newell Beaten By Hookstown

Hookstown plated a run in the eighth inning to break a 3-3 tie and gain a 4-3 win over Newell in the Senior Division of the South Side Hot Stove League Thursday.

Paul Verzella, who relieved Dwaine Swaney in the seventh, was credited with the pitching victory. Bud Bayless and Bill Raimond hurled for Newell.

Lawrenceville defeated Hanover, 11-6, as Gary Cashdollar won over Littell. Bill Wright of Lawrenceville and Ron McCloskey of Hanover homered.

Jack Miles hit two homers, one a grand slam, to lead Georgetown-Shippingport to a 22-6 romp over Frankfort. Jerry Campbell and Dave Trimble also homered for the winners. Allison was the winning pitcher, with Cumberlidge the loser.

The team records, with three more weeks of play remaining in addition to make-up games, are: Georgetown - Shippingport, 9-1; Lawrenceville, 7-2; Hanover, 4-5; Newell, 3-6; Hookstown, 3-7; and Frankfort, 2-7.

Man In Shooting Case Found Hiding In Barn

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—A two-day search for a 32-year-old Warren man accused of shooting his wife ended Thursday night when authorities found him hiding in a barn along Ohio 82 in neighboring Portage County.

Trumbull County sheriff's deputy Paul Bazillius said Robert Heckman, accused of shooting his wife four times in the chest and abdomen, was carrying a gun but did not use it when he was routed from a hay mow of the barn in Windham Twp.

The man's wife, Joyce, 21, was reported in satisfactory condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Youngstown. The shooting took place early Wednesday along a street just outside Warren after Mrs. Heckman left her job at a factory.

Cooper Fires 65 To Take Lead In Motor City Open

DETROIT (AP)—Grandpa Pete Cooper is back home at his old shooting gallery and aiming for his first major golf victory in four years.

The grizzled, craggy-faced veteran's familiarity with the Knollwood Country Club course hleped him take a blazing 6-under-par 33-32 — 65 into today's second round of the $35,000 Motor City Open.

But Cooper has plenty of competition from the pros who ripped 6,879-yard Knollwood to shreds Thursday. There were 40 golfers who bettered par, 36-35—71, in the first round.

Bruce Crampton, Bill Casper, Bob Shave and Dave Ragan were right behind Cooper with 66s, followed by four others at 67 and five at 68.

"They haven't changed this course much," said Cooper, who was pro at Knollwood in 1955 and 1956 and now plays out of West Palm Beach, Fla.

"I missed only three greens regulation and had only 27 putts for my 18 holes," he said.

U.S., Canadian Net Stars Clash In Zone Cup Opener

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The American Zone Davis Cup competition opens here today with Chuck McKinley, ace of the United States team, playing Francois Godbout, 24, Canada's best, in the first singles match.

In the second match, Jon Douglas, 25, of Santa Monica, Calif., takes on Don Fontana, 31, captain of the Canadian team and a veteran of six Davis Cup campaigns.

Selection of Douglas, a former Stanford quarterback, came as a surprise Thursday. Frank Froehling, 19, of Coral Gables, Fla., had been expected to play in the second singles on the basis of his fine record the past few months, but he has been bothered by a sore throat since his arrival from the Wimbledon tournament in England.

The teams for Saturday's doubles were to be named today, but Fontana and U.S. Capt. Bob Kelleher indicated it will be Godbout and Fontana against McKinley and Dennis Ralston, 20, of Bakersfield, Calif.

In the singles Sunday McKinley will be matched against Fontana in the opener, and Douglas will play Godbout.

Play starts at 2 p.m., EDT each day.

The U.S. team is heavily favored to win the best-of-five matches here and go on to Mexico City to play Mexico in the American Zone finals Aug. 4-6. The U.S. beat Mexico in the zone finals here last year.

Semifinals Set In Women's Golf At South Bend

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Mrs. Ann Casey Johnstone, 42, and three talented youngsters moved into semifinals of the 62nd Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament today at South Bend Country Club.

Mrs. Johnstone, the only former winner in the field, was playing her usual canny game and having good results with a croquet mallet-type putter, but the gallery was getting most of its kicks from her opponent today, Carol Sorenson, 19, of Janesville, Wis., and Clifford Ann Creed, 23.

Miss Creed, best amateur in seven tourneys this year, was matched with Barbara Fay White, 24. They are old Louisiana rivals, Clifford Ann from Alexandria and Barbara Fay from Shreveport.

Miss Sorenson took an 8 and 6 victory Thursday over Doris Phillips, former Southern Illinois champion from St. Louis.

Miss Creed was two under par in a 4 and 3 victory over Mrs. Paul Dye Jr. of Indianapolis, former Indiana champion. Julie Hull of Anderson, present Indiana champ, couldn't hold a one-hole advantage at the turn and yielded to Mrs. Johnstone 2 and 1.

Miss White, a Texas Christian student, defeated Mrs. Michael J. Skala of Roseburg, Ore., former National Junior champion, 2 and 1.

Koufax Pitches Victory Despite Pains In Hand

NEW YORK (AP)—Sandy Koufax set the New York Mets down for seven innings Thursday night with the index finger of his pitching hand as numb as the Mets' bats.

Koufax, sensational southpaw of the Los Angeles Dodgers pitched with his left hand painfully swollen and the upper half of his left index finger badly discolored and almost entirely numb.

He had yielded only three hits when he left after the seventh, Larry Sherry finished the 3-0 victory.

"The hand hurt me all through the game," Koufax said. "And then I developed a blood blister on the index finger so we decided not to take any chances.

"However, I don't expect to miss any turns. The doctors have told me the only thing I can do for the condition is to rest, and I can't do that."

Browns, Rams Swing Five-Player Trade

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns obtained insurance at quarterback and offensive halfback in a five-player trade Thursday with the Los Angeles Rams.

Veteran quarterback Frank Ryan and halfback Tom Wilson will be coming to the Browns in exchange for Larry Stephens, a defensive tackle, and two undisclosed draft choices.

Ryan is slated as the Browns' No. 2 quarterback to spell Jim Ninowski.

Acquisition of Wilson removes some of the pressure from Ernie Davis, the All-America from Syracuse, who is at the College All-Star camp and may need time to get acclimated when he joins the Browns in training at Hiram next month.

Winterizing Slated At Wheeling Downs

WHEELING — James F. Edwards, operator of Wheeling Downs, announced today that contracts are ready to be let for complete winterizing of the entire grandstand and club house areas.

Contracts for all glass work have been submitted by the local firm of John Dallas, agent for American Plate Glass Co. to completely enclose both upper and lower grandstand.

Work on the project will start immediately and will continue until completed so as to have it ready in time for the winter meeting, scheduled to start about the middle of December and running through January.

2 Canton Women Battle For Ohio Amateur Crown

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two Canton women battle for the Ohio Women's Amateur Golf Championship in a 36-hole grind at the Kirtland Country Club today.

Mrs. Betty Kerby Peppard, who won the title in 1958 and 1959, and Mrs. John Whitacre, a long-ball hitter, advanced to the finals with victories over two teen-agers in the 18-hole semifinal round over the par 75 course Thursday.

Mrs. Peppard eliminated Joan Gavigan, 18, of Troy, 1-up, and Mrs. Whitacre ousted 19-year-old defending champion Judy Rand of Aurora, 1-up in 19 holes.

Mrs. Whitacre was two down after 16 holes, but won the 17th and 18th with pars and got a birdie on the 19th to close out the match.

A short drive had Mrs. Peppard, who had a one-hole edge, in trouble on the 18th, but she made a comeback with a wood shot that put her on the green in three and she matched Miss Gavigan's par five.

Newell Beaten By Hookstown

Hookstown plated a run in the eighth inning to break a 3-3 tie and gain a 4-3 win over Newell in the Senior Division of the South Side Hot Stove League Thursday.

Paul Verzella, who relieved Dwaine Swaney in the seventh, was credited with the pitching victory. Bud Bayless and Bill Raimond hurled for Newell.

Lawrenceville defeated Hanover, 11-6, as Gary Cashdollar won over Littell. Bill Wright of Lawrenceville and Ron McCloskey of Hanover homered.

Jack Miles hit two homers, one a grand slam, to lead Georgetown-Shippingport to a 22-6 romp over Frankfort. Jerry Campbell and Dave Trimble also homered for the winners. Allison was the winning pitcher, with Cumberlidge the loser.

The team records, with three more weeks of play remaining in addition to make-up games, are: Georgetown - Shippingport, 9-1; Lawrenceville, 7-2; Hanover, 4-5; Newell, 3-6; Hookstown, 3-7; and Frankfort, 2-7.

Man In Shooting Case Found Hiding In Barn

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—A two-day search for a 32-year-old Warren man accused of shooting his wife ended Thursday night when authorities found him hiding in a barn along Ohio 82 in neighboring Portage County.

Trumbull County sheriff's deputy Paul Bazillius said Robert Heckman, accused of shooting his wife four times in the chest and abdomen, was carrying a gun but did not use it when he was routed from a hay mow of the barn in Windham Twp.

The man's wife, Joyce, 21, was reported in satisfactory condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Youngstown. The shooting took place early Wednesday along a street just outside Warren after Mrs. Heckman left her job at a factory.

Cooper Fires 65 To Take Lead In Motor City Open

DETROIT (AP)—Grandpa Pete Cooper is back home at his old shooting gallery and aiming for his first major golf victory in four years.

The grizzled, craggy-faced veteran's familiarity with the Knollwood Country Club course hleped him take a blazing 6-under-par 33-32 — 65 into today's second round of the $35,000 Motor City Open.

But Cooper has plenty of competition from the pros who ripped 6,879-yard Knollwood to shreds Thursday. There were 40 golfers who bettered par, 36-35—71, in the first round.

Bruce Crampton, Bill Casper, Bob Shave and Dave Ragan were right behind Cooper with 66s, followed by four others at 67 and five at 68.

"They haven't changed this course much," said Cooper, who was pro at Knollwood in 1955 and 1956 and now plays out of West Palm Beach, Fla.

"I missed only three greens regulation and had only 27 putts for my 18 holes," he said.

Dies Suddenly

DES PLAINES, Ill. (AP) — A Canton, Ohio, man apparently died of a heart attack in a motel here. The body of James C. Vignos, 61, was found Thursday in his room in the Des Plaines Motel. He was a sales vice president for the Ferro Alloy Corp. and arrived here Wednesday on business.

Junior Editors Quiz on GOVERNMENTS

QUESTION: How do Parliament and Congress differ?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The English word "Parliament" means a group of people who have power to make and repeal laws and, in more recent times, to govern the country. In the old days, the king, with the advice of the "Lords Spiritual" or clergymen, and the "Lords Temporal" or nobles, did the lawmaking and ruling himself. Ordinary people came to be represented by the "House of Commons," which at first had little power. But the Commons came to be more and more important, until today it both makes the laws and, through its influence over the Cabinet ministers and the prime minister, is the real ruling force in England. In contrast, "Congress" is only one branch of the American government. Our supreme government is our written Constitution. Under this, there are three branches: Congress, which makes laws and imposes taxes; the President and his advisors who carry out the laws and are the Executive branch; and the Supreme Court which makes sure that the laws agree with the Constitution.

★ ★ ★

'Panther' Eludes Search Party In Calcutta District

A search that started Thursday afternoon in the Calcutta area for what is believed to be a half-grown panther ended early today after an all night vigil proved futile.

The animal, which has been spotted at least three times since Sunday, is described as being very dark in color — between a black and a grey — and about the size of an average dog.

The "cat" was seen shortly before noon yesterday by children of Mrs. Jack Cook of the Old Fredericktown Rd. in a field near the home.

Mrs. Cook said her daughter, Colleen, 8, and son, Bill, 12, told of seeing the animal, but said she didn't believe it until she heard the animal squalling and snarling.

She said she attempted to spot the cat with binoculars but was unsuccessful. She notified authorities, who picked up the tracks and started the hunt.

Three members of a Calcutta family saw the cat up a utility pole near the Calcutta fire station Sunday and later it was spotted at night on the same pole by another woman who was wakened about 3 a.m. by her dogs barking.

Lester McElhaney and Richard Wright, St. Clair Township constables, headed the search, aided by deputies from the Columbiana County sheriff's office and men from the community. Dogs were used to trail the cat for a while.

The tracks were lost about a half mile from Mrs. Cook's home. A wax cast was made of the prints at one spot where it jumped into the soft dirt along a small stream of water.

McElhaney did not return home until 4 this morning. He said men were posted at various spots, hoping to spot the animal, while others searched the fields and wooded areas.

The search is expected to continue as residents of the community have become alarmed over the safety of their children.

Some have indicated the animal may be a bobcat although it was reported one man who saw the tracks had once owned a panther and he said it is a half-grown panther.

2 Pottery Locals Slated To Merge

Two more local unions will be merged at a meeting Aug. 25, the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters said today.

E. L. Wheatley, international president, said an official notice has been given to Local 25, packers, to merge with Local 124, decorators and decorating kilnmen.

The meeting will be held at 10 a. m. in the old IBOP building on W. 6th St.

Several mergers already have been affected, consolidating smaller locals into single, large units.

Trustees To Meet

SUMMITVILLE — The Franklin Township trustees will meet Monday night at 8 for routine business. Forrest Thompson is chairman.

Pair Escapes Fire In Home At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Two E. Clark St. women were forced to flee an early morning fire that burned out the interior of a double house and caused heavy smoke which felled two volunteers today.

The blaze broke out shortly after 2 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Elsie Landfried, 64, and her daughter, Miss Ruth Landfried, 42, of 316 E. Clark St.

They reside in half of the double home owned by George M. Brobeck of Aliquippa, who has been remodeling the unoccupied side.

Mrs. Landfried was awakened by smoke and roused her daughter. The older woman, who has a leg condition, had to be carried across the street to the home of neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crowl, as the flames spread.

Frank Frederick and George Peterson, firemen, were overcome by smoke and were given oxygen at the scene.

The flames burned out the interior of the Landfried side of the house, destroying a large part of their clothing and furniture, and burned through one wall of the other side.

Fire Chief Glenn Libert said the blaze apparently was caused by defective wiring at the rear of a refrigerator or by the refrigerator itself. He estimated damage to the house at $1,500 and damage to furnishings at $1,000. The loss was covered by insurance.

Liverpool's Trustees Set Radio Need Study

A survey of fire and police radio needs and coverage areas for Liverpool Township is to be made by a Youngstown man as a result of discussions on communications by township trustees and firemen Thursday night at the Dixonville fire station.

Chad Todd, representative of the Motorola Co., will undertake the survey and report at another meeting of the groups July 26.

The township officials have been contemplating a general two-way radio system linking the township agencies. Trustees will meet tonight at the City Hall for regular business.

Your son may ask you to explain this statement...

Young people today are encouraged to ask intelligent questions about things you may take for granted.

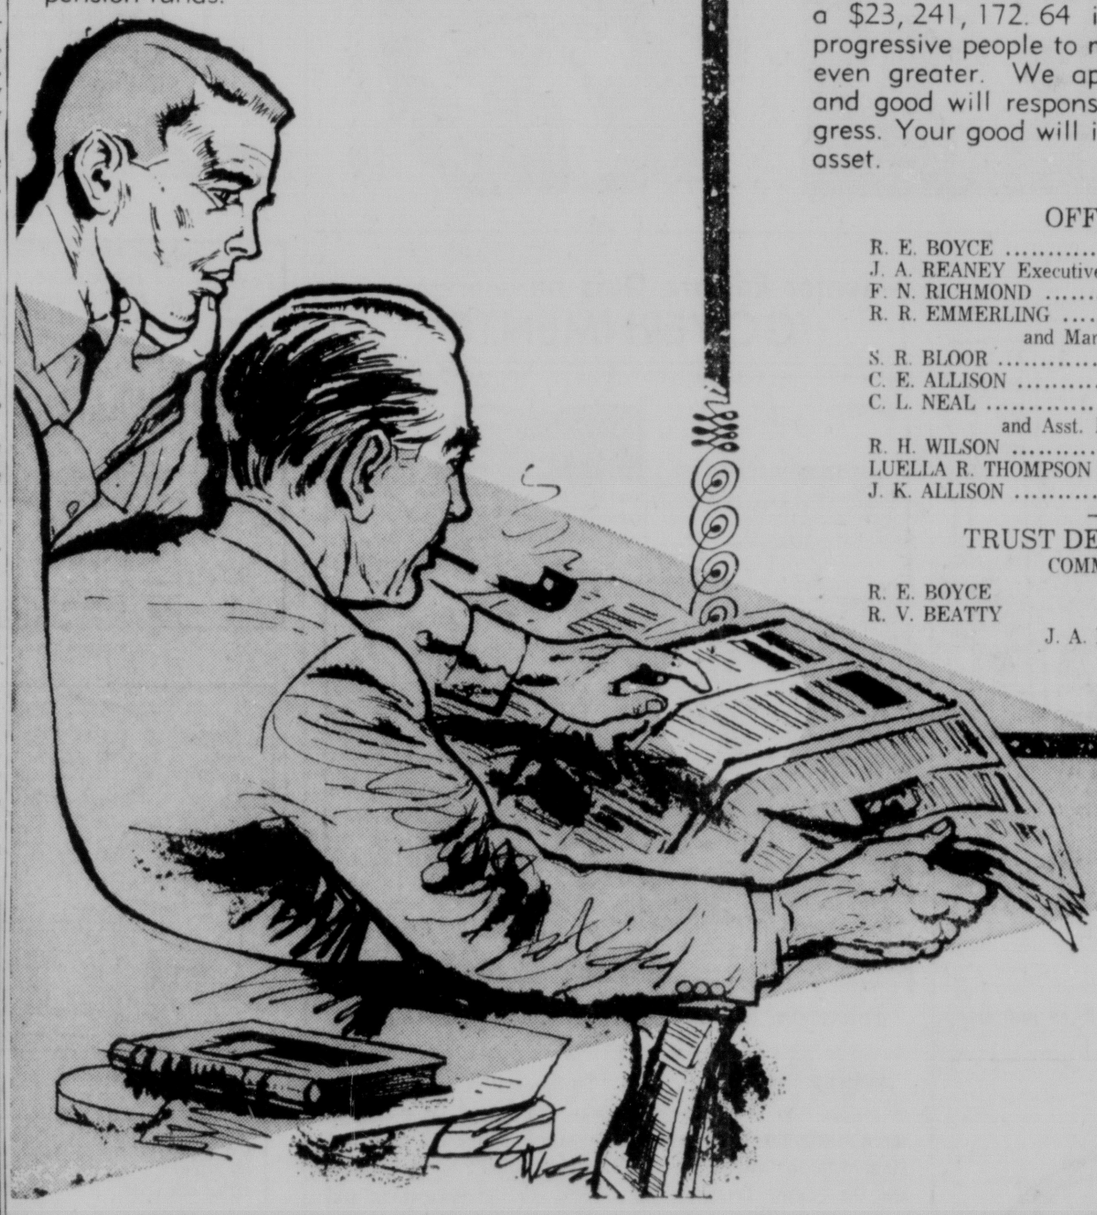

This bank's STATEMENT OF CONDITION, for example, may look complicated, but the most important parts are easy to understand and explain.

The figure for "DEPOSITS" shows that individuals and business have entrusted Hometown's oldest and largest national bank with $18,887,183.15. Their condition has made it one of the leading banks in the Tri-State Area.

Equally important for the folks living and working in the area is the figure "LOANS AND DISCOUNTS". They are dollars "working" to create more goods, more jobs and more business. They are dollars helping thousands of families to buy homes, cars, refrigerators and television sets. The figure represents money advanced for paying bills incurred for medical treatment, hospital expense and personal needs.

A total of $3,632,871.72 shown as CAPITAL, SURPLUS, UNDIVIDED PROFITS and RESERVES spells out to stockholders of the bank, which have been left in the bank as protection for the depositors, and as evidence of their faith in the soundness of the bank. This large "cushion of safety" is in addition to that afforded by deposit insurance with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The "TRUST FUNDS: also represent money entrusted to the bank by individuals and business. It is to be administered for the benefit of themselves or others. Part of it is estates of deceased persons being distributed under terms of wills or court order. The $7,441,069.53 belongs in part to minor or incompetent persons. It is also designated pension funds.

Your son may ask you to explain this statement...

Young people today are encouraged to ask intelligent questions about things you may take for granted.

This bank's STATEMENT OF CONDITION, for example, may look complicated, but the most important parts are easy to understand and explain.

The figure for "DEPOSITS" shows that individuals and business have entrusted Hometown's oldest and largest national bank with $18,887,183.15. Their condition has made it one of the leading banks in the Tri-State Area.

Equally important for the folks living and working in the area is the figure "LOANS AND DISCOUNTS". They are dollars "working" to create more goods, more jobs and more business. They are dollars helping thousands of families to buy homes, cars, refrigerators and television sets. The figure represents money advanced for paying bills incurred for medical treatment, hospital expense and personal needs.

A total of $3,632,871.72 shown as CAPITAL, SURPLUS, UNDIVIDED PROFITS and RESERVES spells out to stockholders of the bank, which have been left in the bank as protection for the depositors, and as evidence of their faith in the soundness of the bank. This large "cushion of safety" is in addition to that afforded by deposit insurance with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The "TRUST FUNDS: also represent money entrusted to the bank by individuals and business. It is to be administered for the benefit of themselves or others. Part of it is estates of deceased persons being distributed under terms of wills or court order. The $7,441,069.53 belongs in part to minor or incompetent persons. It is also designated pension funds.
